B.C., OTTAWA JOIN TO KEEP MINE OPEN

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal and British Columbia governments together will contribute $20,000 a month toward keeping the copper mine of Howe Sound Company at Britannia, B.C., open through the winter on a reduced scale, Justice Minister Davie Fulton today informed the Commons.

The federal government will contribute $16,000 a month and B.C. $4,000. Number of workers will be reduced to between 350 and 400 from the present 700 but the company will still incur "substantial losses," Mr. Fulton said.

He said this was an unusual request but that the circumstances are unique. The mine had been scheduled to close down altogether today, leaving some 700 men without jobs in an isolated community where no alternate employment was available.

Paris Parley Leaders Work Compromise

Move Would Permit Military To Bolster W. Europe Strength

(See Also Page 9)

PARIS (CP)—The leaders of the Western Alliance today directed the NATO permanent council to work out a common policy toward Russian proposals for East-West talks, thus leaving the door open for negotiations.

They also agreed to take early steps to invite Russia to resume talks about disarmament.

The common policy move apparently was part of a compromise solution that would allow military men to continue plans to increase Western Europe's strength with ballistic missiles.

The U.S. delegation has been reported as willing to accept such a compromise although wanting something stronger.

NATO Secretary-General Paul-Henri Spaak, at a press conference, outlined the workings of the second day's sessions of the summit talks.

Spaak also said that there were suggestions today that the question of disarmament be taken up with the Soviet Union outside the United Nations, where negotiations are stalled.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau suggested a five-power disarmament talk.

The five powers would be Britain, France, the U.S., Canada and Russia.

Spaak said that the debate on the letters from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin ended in full agreement to refer the matter to the NATO permanent council.

5,000- MILE MISSILE LAUNCHED BY U.S.

TRUMP AT NATO

Europe Hails U.S. Success With Missile

LONDON (UP)—Successful firing of the Atlas missile sent a wave of cheer through Europe tonight and gave the United States its strongest card to date for a new rocket defence accord at the Paris NATO summit conference.

The news reached Europe—and particularly Paris—while the NATO alliance's chiefs of state were in their second working session this afternoon.

It provided the U.S. with the best possible answer to growing European fears that U.S. ability to defend its allies was falling behind the Soviet threat.

There was no immediate reaction from Moscow.

Soviet party leader Nikita Khrushchev himself told western correspondents earlier this month that "sooner or later" he knew the U.S. would achieve the intercontinental missile.

In London, Kenneth W. Gatliff, vice-chairman of the council of the British Interplanetary Society, said:

"It is a great achievement. We have been waiting for this for a long time. It means the U.S. is right in the field with the Soviet in the development of long-range missiles. This development will enable them to put larger satellites into the air."

T-BRICKS

Students, Newsboys Aid Drive

Young students of Willows School made the largest group donation to The Times "T-Bricks for Korea" fund today.

Result of their canvass through the school was $128.10—12,801 bricks to build a children's TB outpatients' pavilion in the city of Seoul.

Eight Times carrier boys exceeded their "quota" of 50 cents each to give $6 to the fund. Sub-manager of the group and campaigner was Michael Sommers, 2400 Cedar Hill Cross Road.

Jerry Gosley, who has vivid memories of Korean suffering from his Smile Show tour of the country a few years ago, collected another $25 for the fund following the "T-Bricks" benefit show at the Odeon Theatre Sunday.

The money was donated by staff of the Strathcona Hotel where Gosley passed the hat during a Smile Show program later that night.

Sizeable donations also came from Mount View High School—$30—and National Motors Ltd., $50.

The fund now stands at $6,996. Further contributions should be sent to the Victoria Daily Times, Douglas Street, or the Times downtown office, Broad Street.

Plane Search Continuing

VANCOUVER (CP)—A helicopter will land a four-man search party today—weather permitting—on a rugged mountain in the British Columbia interior where a light plane crashed Sunday.

Monday, swirling snow whipped up by winds reaching 75 miles an hour forced postponement of plans to send the party up Mount Thynne, in the Coquihalla Pass 110 miles east of here.

Aboard the rented Beechcraft Bonanza when it crashed at the 6,000-foot level of the mountain were DEWLine pilot Roger Sujir, about 30, of Calgary, and an unidentified female companion.

ICBM Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. Air Force successfully launched an Atlas inter-continental ballistic missile today.

The air force announced success "on a limited range" and said the Atlas travelled several hundred miles, landing in a pre-selected target area.

The giant weapon, 100 tons of metal and fuel, roared skyward from the missile test centre here at 12:38 p.m. EST (9:38 PST) after hours of preparation.

It disappeared into a cloud layer 2,000 to 3,000 feet above ground within one minute of launching.

The Atlas is designed to deliver a hydrogen warhead to a target 5,000 miles away in a flight time of 30 minutes. To reach maximum range, it would attain an altitude of 600 miles.

Within 20 minutes after the launching the air force here and the defence department in Washington announced that "this was a limited range test of several hundred miles."

The Atlas is the U.S. answer to Russia's claim of superiority in the field of long-range missiles. The Soviets have reported successful launchings of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Atlas is powered by three rocket engines delivering 270,000 pounds of thrust.

Pushed by 3 Rocket Engines

The takeoff appeared at the very start to be successful. The tall, slender tube rose straight upward from its launching stand, slowly at first.

Gradually it climbed faster as the mighty thrust of its three rocket engines began to take effect.

Ground haze and heavy thunderclouds, which rolled in at mid-morning, obscured the view. Moments after leaving the ground the missile, trailing a thick streak of flame, disappeared into the overcast.

The missile was visible for about one minute before it climbed into the thick cloud banks overhead.

At about the time it disappeared, the first roar of its engines could be heard on the distant beaches.

Although the missile could not be seen thereafter, the thunder of its engines could be heard for more than four minutes.

There was no way that watchers here could determine whether the firing was entirely successful, but it unquestionably was a much better shot than the two previous Atlas test firings. In both earlier launchings the missiles wobbled and had to be destroyed.

Only a few beach watchers observed the fiery blastoff.

Exhaust Becomes Burning Sun

The first sign of the firing was a belch of white smoke. Ground haze was so intense that the missile itself could not be seen.

The smoke rose higher and then a dot of flame appeared. The flame rose and the missile came into view.

Then the exhaust became a burning sun boring a hole into the clouds.

The launching drew wide attention, since Russia has reported a successful firing of its own intercontinental missile.

Through binoculars, observers noticed also Monday night that the Vanguard rocket launching tower was lighted and the scene of much activity. One report had it that there will be another Vanguard launching attempt about December 23.

The launch stand was damaged December 6 by a satellite-bearing Vanguard three-stage rocket which failed to take off properly and burned on the ground. The stand has been dark, or nearly so, each night since then.

Gagliardi's Church Damaged by Vandals

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Knife-wielding vandals have been busy in this city's new $100,000 Calvary Temple, resident pulpit of Rev. P. A. Gagliardi, B.C.'s minister of highways.

Workmen Monday discovered slashes in a new red carpet, newly laid for the temple's inaugural ceremonies later this week. They said the cuts had been made with a linoleum knife.

Promotion Given UNEF Commander

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes announced today Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general effective Jan. 1.

The announcement said the Canadian general will continue to command the international police force stationed along the Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

Gen. Burns is on loan from the Canadian Army to the external affairs department, for duty with the United Nations.

The announcement said the promotion "recognizes the outstanding work and leadership given by Gen. Burns while chief of staff of the UN truce supervisory organization and as commander of the UNEF in the Middle East."

While serving with UNEF, Gen. Burns, former Canadian deputy minister of veterans affairs, is on leave of absence from a post as special adviser in the external affairs department.

The general, a soldier, writer, scientist, authority on map-making, lecturer and former general officer commanding the 1st Canadian Corps during some of its toughest battles in Italy, has headed the precedent-setting international force since its creation more than a year ago.

LIEUT. GEN. E. L. BURNS

PRAYER FOR TODAY

In quietude we look to Thee, our Father, for Thy blessing at this hour. Sincerely we breathe a prayer of gratitude for Thy bountiful gifts, which our eyes behold, and for those things which we cannot see. Help us to see more clearly and accept more fully Thy provision for all our needs and Thy help in solving all our problems. May we never be weary of taking Thy granted Thy gifts of mercy and forgive our waywardness as we thank Thee for Thy faithfulness; in Jesus' name. Amen.

Sommers Trial Ordered To Proceed by January 10

VANCOUVER (CP)—Magistrate Oscar Orr today ordered the Crown to be ready to proceed in the Sommers bribery conspiracy case by Jan. 10.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said he could not guarantee to be ready by that time.

Mr. McMorran also said he does not intend to release an RCMP report into allegations of bribery made against Robert Sommers, former forests minister in the B.C. cabinet.

The report by Inspector W. J. Butler is libellous, the prosecutor said.

It cannot be produced on the ground of public policy and its form and nature would make it inadmissible as evidence. Mr. McMorran has returned it to Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

Lawyer Alfred Bull said he will make application to have the report made available. Magistrate Orr will hear Mr. Bull's request later this week.

Mr. Bull is counsel for Charles Davis Schultz and C. D. Schultz and Company Limited, charged in the bribery conspiracy case along with Sommers, Hugh Wilson Gray, John M. Gray and the two companies with which the Grays are connected, Pacific Coast Services and Evergreen Lumber Sales.

The three lumber companies and their executives are charged with bribing Sommers for forest management licences.

Nicholas Mussallam, Sommers' lawyer, said the delay in beginning the case was "much less than satisfactory."

Sommers was arrested at his home in Victoria Nov. 21 "with a great deal of fanfare" but the case has not begun.

"Now we learn that there may not only be new charges laid but amendments made to the present ones," Mr. Mussallam said.

"If the crown is unable to proceed as expeditiously as possible, I will ask either that the case be dismissed or write to the attorney-general asking him to appoint counsel who can proceed."

Magistrate Orr said he could not agree to a motion for dismissal.

"This matter should come to some conclusion quickly," Magistrate Orr added. "Some time by the first week in January the final charges should be settled and particulars given. A conspiracy case is not so very difficult."

Notin' like a 5,000-mile missile with atomic warhead t' git y' into th' proper Christmas spirit.

JAIL, FINE IN VOTERS' LIST PADDING

TORONTO (CP)—Bernice Price, 27, of Toronto was sentenced today to one month in jail plus a fine of $300 or an additional month in jail on charges arising from alleged padding of voters' lists in Toronto St. Paul's federal riding.

Miss Price was convicted last week on 18 charges of forgery and uttering and violating the Canada Elections Act.

The prison term and fine were imposed on the first month. She was given one month concurrent on each of the other 17 charges.

Yukon Victory Boosts Tory House Strength

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Erik Nielsen, a young Progressive Conservative seeking his first public office, Monday was elected to the House of Commons as member for the Yukon, Canada's most northwesterly constituency.

The 34-year-old Whitehorse lawyer was elected in a by-election by a narrow margin over incumbent Aubrey Simmons, 49, who had held the seat for the Liberals since 1949 and whose re-election in the federal general election last June was voided by the courts because of irregularities in the balloting.

Two isolated polls with a possible total of 122 votes were unreported at the end of counting Monday night, but the count from 49 of the 51 polls gave Mr. Nielsen a 148-vote margin, 2,339 to 2,191.

There was no possibility of a reversal of Mr. Nielsen's election by a service vote as occurred in the June vote when the overseas service count wiped out a 49-vote margin held by Mr. Nielsen and re-elected Mr. Simmons by a 64-vote majority, 2,422 to 2,358. No service vote is permitted under by-election regulations.

The outcome Monday increased the Progressive Conservatives' margin over the Liberals to nine seats.

House standing following the by-election: Progressive Conservatives, 113; Liberals, 104; CCF, 25; Social Credit, 19; Independent, 2; Independent-Liberal, 1; Liberal-Labor, 1. Total 265.

Foes Part as Friends In Saanich Council

Farewells were the chief order of business Monday night when Saanich council met in a short post-election session that was the last meeting for three councillors.

Reeve Arthur Ash paid tribute to Councillors Leslie Passmore, Joseph Casey and Eugene Diespecker.

"While we have disagreed on many occasions," he told Coun. Passmore, "I have always admired you because you always called a spade a spade. And I've admired your sense of humor, at the council table and away from it."

Coun. Passmore said he felt relief when he was defeated last week and "it feels so good I have decided to break all ties with council and intermunicipal committees."

Council applauded as they stood up and shook hands.

Coun. Passmore resigned his posts as Saanich representative on the library board, Greater Victoria centennial committee, Royal Oak board of cemetery trustees and his position as "liaison" between council and an historical society seeking restoration of Craigflower School.

Senate Told U.S. Expects Workable ICBM in 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas said today there is a "very-real possibility" the Russians will shoot a rocket to the moon within a year.

Douglas told the Senate preparedness subcommittee he thinks the United States can match this possible achievement "within the foreseeable future." But he did not set any date.

Douglas also testified that the U.S. expects to have intercontinental ballistic missiles in operation within two years. Douglas gave this estimate reluctantly in response to questioning by chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Tex.), saying at first it was secret information.

MAY BE COMBAT AREA

His estimate that the Russians might fire a rocket at the moon was given after Gen. Thomas D. White, air force chief of staff, said the U.S. must get about the business of conquering outer space, which he said may become an area of combat.

The ICBM is designed to pack a nuclear warhead for distances up to 3,000 miles at speeds in the thousands of miles an hour.

Douglas also testified the Thor missile "can move into substantial monthly production at a very early date and has been ordered to do so." The Thor is a 1,500-mile intermediate range missile ICBM.

Looking further ahead, Douglas told the subcommittee the air force is working to develop

MP Charges Socreds Selling Out to U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—Gage Montgomery, New Brunswick Progressive Conservative, Monday accused the Social Credit party of backing United States power interests at the expense of British Columbia.

The Commons member for Victoria-Carleton also said Senator Thomas Reid, B.C. Liberal and chairman of the International Salmon Fisheries Commission, has made statements injurious to Canada.

Mr. Montgomery made his comments as Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission, completed his annual testimony before the Commons external affairs committee.

A. B. Patterson (SC-Fraser Valley) said he is opposed to power development on the Fraser River until the controversy between fish and power has been settled.

He said no power project should be undertaken on the Fraser until it can be shown conclusively that the salmon run on the river would not be seriously affected.

The Columbia rises in British Columbia and flows through the U.S. Pacific Northwest. Gen. McNaughton has said American power interests want water storage dams on the Canadian section of the Columbia from which water would be fed down as needed to U.S. power plants.

Mr. Montgomery said the Social Credit party is backing the U.S. attitude and thus putting Canada in a bad position.

Gen. McNaughton testified that the people of southwestern B.C. won't stand much longer for paying high electricity costs when the Fraser River is on their doorstep for power development. Power consumers were supporting a "vested interest"—the salmon fishing industry.

Romans Mourn Famed Singer

ROME (Reuters)—Hundreds of Romans Monday paid last respects to the body of famed Italian singer Beniamino Gigli in the basilica of St. Mary of the Angels. Heaps of flowers and wreaths lay around the coffin where the beloved tenor lay.

The body was taken today for burial to his home town of Recanati, near the Adriatic coast. Gigli died in Rome on Nov. 30 of bronchial pneumonia. He was 67.

8-DAY SUBWAY STRIKE ENDS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Rush-hour service on New York City's vast subway system was back to normal today after an eight day motormen's strike.

The transit workers officially called off their walkout Monday night after receiving promises of state legislature help on their demands. The morning rush of workbound thousands was the first full test of facilities.

The strike was estimated to have cost the transit authority which operates the 228-mile system more than $2,000,000 in lost fares.

Strong Trade Mission To Canada U.K. Plan

LONDON (CP)—Britain today announced she will send a "small but strong" trade mission to Canada next spring and turn her smaller manufacturers into more powerful exporting blocs.

At the same time Canadian Trade Minister Gordon Churchill appealed to United Kingdom manufacturers to launch a vast "buy British" advertising campaign in Canada and exploit "the explosive power of sentiment in business."

Those who fail to recognize this power of sentiment are overlooking one of their strongest weapons, Churchill said in a report issued by the 50-man Canadian trade mission at wind-up sessions with Britain's Dollar Exports Council.

"Human nature being as it is, people like to deal with the progressive and the successful," Churchill added. "Britain today is a live and virile nation that has made a tremendous recovery since the war and is showing leadership in the new and scientific."

"Your genius for understatement is charming—but it certainly isn't a promotional asset."

Sir William Rootes, council chairman, told the mission that its suggestions, ranging from the advertising campaign to providing priority on shipment of goods to Canada will be implemented as quickly as possible.

Murder-Suicide Inquest Pending

(From CP-Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—No date has been set for the inquest into a suspected murder-suicide involving a man and a woman in a downtown motel Sunday.

Jack Roberts, 35-year-old Hamilton, Ont., welder, is believed to have shot 21-year-old Ann Stringer, formerly of London, England, before killing himself.

Police said the dead woman came here from Hamilton in August. Her father is Albert Stringer, Royal Mews, Buckingham Palace Road, London.

Police say the man left two notes. One was addressed to a woman in eastern Canada, thought to be his wife, and the second, addressed "to whom it may concern," is a rambling three-page account of his love affair with Miss Stringer.

Police believe Roberts shot the woman twice in the left leg then dragged her to the bed and shot her through the chest.

Investigators said Roberts then placed a pillow against his chest and shot himself. Towels were apparently used to muffle the 45 automatic.

POPE PLANS TO STRENGTHEN GOVERNING BODY OF CHURCH

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Informed Vatican sources expect Pope Plus to act soon to reinforce the central government of the Roman Catholic Church, weakened in the last year by the deaths of two cardinals, the age of persistent ill-health of other cardinals and his own restricted activity.

But, these sources say, the Pope will not deal with this pressing problem of church government in the 19th Christmas message of his reign, which he will broadcast next Sunday.

Vatican sources expect the Pope to announce important teachings as the world's 400,000,000 Roman Catholics enter the space age.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual shrinkage of the hemorrhoids took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed "convenient" Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Strong Opposition To Farm Prices Bill (From Times News Services)

A vigorous—and perhaps prolonged—fight is shaping up in the Opposition against the government's new farm prices support bill.

The CCF and Social Credit parties, backed by some farm organizations, have criticized it strongly. Both parties plan stiff opposition unless some changes are made in it.

The Liberal party's position has not yet been made public, but if it decides to join forces with the other parties against the bill the issue could be a prime one in the next election.

Hazen Argue, CCF whip, says opposition from his party will be strenuous and "at some length." Victor Quelch, Social Credit farm spokesman, says the debate will be long with "pretty heavy opposition" from his group.

Their complaint, and that of farm groups including the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, is that the measure gives no stated assurance that the farm price supports will bear any relationship to prices of other commodities: in other words that it bypasses the principle of parity prices.

'Greater Difficulties'—Gardiner

James G. Gardiner, former Liberal agriculture minister, said last week after hearing of the measure's general principles, but before seeing its exact terms, that unless it was materially changed "it is not going to assist the farmer but, instead, is going to put him into greater difficulties."

Mr. Quelch said he prefers the present price support legislation, in effect since 1944, because it declared the principle that price supports should try to maintain a fair relationship with other commodity prices.

The Social Credit party would seek to have the principle of parity prices written into the new bill, or else have it referred to the House agriculture committee where farm groups could express their views.

He said prices in the last three years had been depressed and "80 per cent of depressed prices is nothing."

Mr. Argue said that if the government is willing to refer the bill to the agriculture committee, the CCF party is prepared to give it second reading—approval in principle—with only a brief debate, in hopes of strengthening its terms later.

The Manitoba Farmers' Union has expressed hostility to the legislation. Union vice-president Rudolph Usick, of Erickson, Man., who has been lobbying among Western MPs, said the bill would provide no more protection for farmers than in the past. The 80 per cent assured base for the specified key commodities was below present supports, in some cases.

The president of the influential Canadian Federation of Several critics have charged it falls short of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's election campaign promise of legislation to ensure "adequate parity based on fair price-cost relationship."

Basic principle of the bill, introduced Saturday, is that the government could provide annual price supports for any farm commodity—except Prairie wheat, oats and barley—in terms of a percentage of the average price in the preceding three years.

There would be a definite guarantee that farmers would not get less than 80 per cent of this year's average basic price for cattle, hogs, sheep, butter, cheese and eggs, and also wheat, oats and barley not produced for marketing by the Canadian Wheat Board.

But the measure sets out no formula which would limit the government in determining the effective support level in any year.

Agriculture, H. H. Hannam, said a "serious shortcoming" is that the bill gives no recognition to the principle of parity between farm product prices and farm production costs.

A government spokesman gave a strong indication Monday that increases will be made in pensions of former federal civil servants.

Richard A. Bell, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Donald Fleming, said that increases are "possible, feasible and just."

He spoke on a resolution sponsored by Rev. Dan McIvor, 84-year-old Liberal member for Fort William, which urged increases for civil servants and former members of the RCMP who retired when salaries were low, in order to bring their pensions into line with those now being granted.

Mr. McIvor said pension adjustments are "an outstanding need."

A price support providing for deficiency payments, if necessary, of up to $13 a ton to Canadian sugar beet growers was announced Monday by Agriculture Minister Douglas Harkness.

Rebels Active In Indonesia

40,000 Flee Homes in Celebes; 'Trouble' Breaks Out in Ambon

JAKARTA, Indonesia (Reuters) — An Indonesian Army official spokesman said today that "trouble" has broken out in the tiny east Indonesian island of Ambon.

The spokesman refused to specify the nature of the trouble on the island, lying 300 miles off Dutch West New Guinea, but said local army leaders now have control of the situation.

The Indonesian news agency Antara also reported today that rebel attacks have flared up in southeast Celebes and that 40,000 persons who fled their homes there are threatened with hunger. The army declined comment on this report.

VILLAGES RAIDED

Antara said armed gangs from the fanatical Darul Islam sect have been attacking villages in southeast Celebes for the last three weeks, plundering one of the island's richest farm and forest areas.

No details of casualties were known. The 40,000 persons who fled their homes had taken refuge with police units.

The gangs now were reported massing near the town of Kendari, where the situation was "alarming."

Ambon Island, in the traditionally pro-Dutch Moluccas, was the centre of a revolt in 1950 when it became capital of the rebel "Republic of South Moluccas," which demanded sovereignty and independence from Indonesia. Indonesian forces put down the revolt and its leaders were tried and imprisoned in 1955.

The Ambonese, nearly all Christians, were singled out by Dutch authorities during their long rule as the main recruits for police and army.

CYPRIOIS STONE U.K. CONVOY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Greek-Cypriot youths today attacked with stones and sand-filled bottles a British army truck convoy outside a school in Morphou, 25 miles west of here.

An army sergeant was injured by the stones, windshields were shattered on three trucks and two others were damaged. The soldiers fired a warning shot into the air.

Greek-Cypriot students have staged riots and clashed with troops in this island colony every day since an outbreak of violence last week timed to coincide with a United Nations debate on Cyprus.

One Killed, 10 Hurt as Bus Hits Truck

EDMONTON (CP)—One man was killed and 10 were injured Monday night when a north-bound bus carrying 30 passengers collided with a loaded cattle truck 25 miles west of here.

None of the injured, nine adults and a child, was reported injured seriously and none was identified immediately. Police withheld the dead man's name. Icy condition of the Whitecourt Highway was blamed for the crash in first reports. These indicated the Canadian Coachways' bus, attempting to slow down after a preceding car had stopped quickly, swerved into the path of the oncoming truck. Several animals were thrown from the cattle truck and some had to be destroyed. The bus was about 45 minutes out of Edmonton on a scheduled run to Whitecourt, 120 miles northwest. Three children were among the 30 passengers.

Both Fish and Power

IF THE EXPLOITATION OF THE Columbia River's electrical power were an engineering problem only no Canadian could quarrel with the plans of General McNaughton, a great engineer. But the diversion of the Columbia into the Fraser system by tunnel, as General McNaughton proposes, must raise two large, perhaps unanswerable objections.

In the first place, the Fraser and its tributary, the Thompson, would have to be dammed to use the water diverted from the Columbia for power purposes. The dams would destroy the salmon fishery which is worth $50 millions a year and can become worth much more, if the fish are adequately conserved.

General McNaughton's reply to this objection is that the fish are quite unimportant as compared to the available power. He says, indeed, that the power would be worth a hundred times more than the fish, or five billions a year, a pretty large and almost unbelievable figure in a nation which produces little more than thirty billions a year in total.

The choice, however, is not as simple as General McNaughton seems to think for we do not have to choose between fish and power. We can have both.

The Columbia can be developed without the diversion of a drop of water into the Fraser and developed on a gigantic scale. Undiverted, it can give us more power than we know how to use for many years to come.

With the Columbia we have other power streams that do not contain salmon. And besides, we may well be moving into the age of atomic power, cheaper and more efficient than hydro power.

Apart from these economic arguments there is, we think, a decisive moral argument against deliberately and unnecessarily destroying one of the world's important sources of high-quality food. Unless we are compelled to do so it would be a moral crime, in a hungry world, to eliminate the Fraser salmon, and so the world would rightly regard it.

Moreover, the Fraser salmon are not ours alone. We own them jointly with the United States under a conservation treaty without which they could not be conserved, because they are caught in American as well as Canadian sea water.

The United States will not lightly agree to the destruction of its salmon industry in Washington to suit our power plans—especially when those power plans themselves would damage American interests.

Therein lies the second objection to General McNaughton's scheme. He is correct, of course, in saying that we have the right to divert the Columbia under a treaty which a foolish American Government thrust upon Canada half a century ago. But a legal right is a very different thing from a sound decision in international politics.

The United States wants the upper Columbia dammed so that the impounded waters, in Canadian territory, will no longer be wasted in summer freshet but will be regulated and used to increase the output of American power plants south of the border.

To be sure, if the water now wasted is diverted to the Fraser the United States will suffer no loss in its present water supply and power output. It hopes, however, to increase the output and is building its northwest industrial complex on that assumption.

Canada replies, and justly, that a large part, perhaps half the new power created in the United States by a Canadian dam must be handed back to Canada. It is the dispute over the division of these downstream benefits that has long divided the two nations—divided them so sharply, indeed, that the former Canadian Government lifted the whole problem out of the International Joint Commission, headed in Canada by General McNaughton, and turned it over to the diplomats for negotiation.

A fair division of this disputed power no doubt can be negotiated and a friendly settlement reached. There can be no friendly settlement if Canada diverts part of the Columbia's flow. The United States would never consent to this loss of potential power and every American politician, exaggerating the diversion, would shout that Canada was turning off an American river.

If the United States had no case in law, under the existing treaty, it would not be powerless by any means. For what it considered an unfriendly international act it could devise innumerable means of retaliation against our interests far outweighing any advantages we could gain from the diversion. Regardless of any other consideration, diversion does not appear to be practical international politics.

Trying to Divert Attention

IN THE PRESENT CHAOS OF Indonesian affairs it is difficult to determine any solid facts. But there seems good reason to believe that President Sukarno, faced with problems he is unable to solve, is desperately drawing a large red herring across his trail in hopes that the attention of native Indonesians will be at least temporarily diverted from the true situation.

Since winning independence from the Netherlands, the Indonesian republic has been anything but a success. It has suffered from internal economic difficulties as well as declining exports. The various islands of the widespread republic have protested against the disposition of tax revenues, charging that benefits have been concentrated in Java where the capital, Jakarta, is located.

Politically, too, Indonesia has had difficulties, culminating in the recent assassination attempt against President Sukarno, who long ago assumed dictatorial powers. Communism has been a persistent force in the country, and it is not clear yet how far the President has gone in encouraging it in order to win its support.

With domestic difficulties reaching a critical stage the evidence is that Mr. Sukarno has intensified his anti-Dutch campaign and renewed his claims to the Dutch-held part of New Guinea in a noisy attempt to cover up his own serious mistakes. In an excess of antagonism he has expelled thousands of Dutch residents from Indonesia and seized valuable properties.

This may serve for a time to mask the fact that the country faces bankruptcy as a result of his policies. But it cannot delay the crisis; it is more likely, indeed, to hasten it.

On the eve of leaving Indonesia on a holiday abroad for his health, the President found it necessary to declare that he was not being deposed. It was an odd assertion for a man in his position—and one which seemed to reveal his fear much more than his confidence.

The Yuletide Look

ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING features of the city streets at this season is the display of colored lighting and other decorations undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce. Many citizens mistakenly believe the Yuletide lights are the work of the city engineer's department, but this is true only of the globes on the downtown lamp standards. It is the merchants of the city, through the Chamber of Commerce, who have made the Christmas decorations possible, and they are to be complimented on a very attractive job, particularly at the city's entrance along the Causeway.

Too Many Hogs

A CANADIAN GOVERNMENT which seems determined, in one way or another, to follow the farm policies of the United States, should observe our neighbors' latest difficulty.

Under President Eisenhower's hopeful "soil bank" program the acreage of wheat and certain other crops was limited. The farmers were guaranteed a high price (provided by the taxpayers) for these crops, where they were produced, and in other places were subsidized to turn marginal lands over to non-subsidized grains or to grass and timber.

All this seemed sound in theory but the program turned out very differently in fact. Prevented from planting such crops as wheat, the farmers planted other grains and fed them to hogs.

Now the nation is faced with a huge glut of hogs and a collapse of pork prices.

This will damage not only the American but the Canadian farmer. For as we have seen in the case of wheat, the United States inevitably exports its farm problems.

At any rate, there is nothing in our neighbors' experience that invites imitation here.

The Stubborn Things

FOR all its faults, and they are many, the democratic process has one saving grace. It does eventually produce the facts. They may be hidden for a time, they may be dressed up in false feathers and temporarily they may be used to deceive the voters. But in the end they emerge, naked and shiny, for, as Robbie Burns once said, they are exceedingly stubborn things.

In Canada we now have a classic demonstration of this old truth and it should do us good. I refer your mind to the election of June 10 not to argue about its result, least of all to argue that its result should have been different, but only to recall certain facts of record.

THE former Government of Canada budgeted last spring for a revenue surplus of $152 millions—wisely or unwisely—and the people destroyed that Government for this and various other reasons.

The opposition said the Government was lying about its finances, that the surplus was actually $500 millions and could be used to reduce taxes by that amount immediately without reducing any public service by a dollar.

Now, one might have supposed that such a simple matter, a dispute of known figures, could have been settled without argument by a brief reference to the national ledger, a public document. But somehow, for the moment, democracy was unable to isolate the simplest facts. An election campaign blurred them beyond recognition and a convinced democrat might well have despaired of his own system when it failed in such an easy task.

THAT is too short a view of democracy. Within only five months the facts have isolated themselves and now stare us in the face, beyond denial or argument.

The surplus was precisely what the old Government said it was and the supposed surplus of half a billion dollars never existed. It was a figment of the former opposition's imagination and democracy is very good in dealing with figments once the two ledgers disgorge their secrets, the grand assize opens and the prisoner—any government—must stand trial on the evidence.

But if facts emerge, as in this case, slowly, the damage can be great. Democracy must pay for its mistakes. Now we are paying with a new budget drastically out of balance. We have not received the half-billion-dollar tax reduction we expected, but only a fraction of that amount and we propose to finance a large part of our new expenditures by borrowing.

IF we had only faced the facts at the beginning an appalling situation could have been avoided. This is all rather tantalizing when the facts were so readily obtained.

The trouble, of course, was that the public or a part of it, would not believe the facts. And why not?

Only because some politicians refused to believe them, or said they did, and proceeded to distort them by an amount of approximately $350 millions which, even in this rich country, isn't hay. And no matter what the old government said, no matter what the ledger said, this distortion passed for the facts until a few days ago and a new structure of deficit finance, the makings of future trouble, was built on the distortion.

I AM willing to believe that the politicians who distorted the facts honestly did not believe them and honestly never intended to produce the financial mess we are now in.

But it is the business of politicians to understand the facts, at least the simplest, most obvious and recorded facts. It is a poor excuse for them to say now that they didn't know the gun was loaded.

For these factual mistakes we must pay a huge financial bill, starting next year when the briefly-hidden deficits appear, but there is a much larger non-financial bill to pay, a bill not easily reckoned. Democracy itself has suffered a deficit in public confidence. Its bank account in public faith has been impaired by a reckless overdraw. A spurious cheque has impaired its credit rating.

A LARGE part of the public would not believe the old Government when it stated facts, now confirmed. It certainly will not believe again the politicians who distorted the facts to win an election. Whom and what will it believe?

Some thoughtful people will conclude that they cannot believe anybody but this, again, is too short a view of democracy. For if we are a little patient we shall find that the facts will turn up quite undamaged in due time so long as we have a Parliament to disinter them, a press to publish them and a literate public to read them.

There is no reason to despair of democracy merely because the facts were buried by one set of politicians for five months. In another five months or so democracy will give us a chance to deal with the real facts again. Also with those who distort them.

Will you please explain what advantage there is in putting your paper in so many sections. It was much easier to handle the way you had it before, only two sections.

Housing, Labor, Profits

I have been reading with interest the increasing barrage of articles and letters blaming the increased cost of labor for the increased cost of construction.

If it is true that higher wages are responsible for higher construction costs in recent years, one would expect to find that labor costs now account for a higher proportion of construction costs than they used to. But this is not the case.

The Dominion Government Bureau of Statistics Report on the Construction Industry shows the reverse: that salaries and wages now constitute a lower proportion of the total construction dollar than they did before the war:

	Distribution of Construction Dollar	Construction Contractors
	Salaries and wages	Cost of materials
1939	36.2%	56.0%
1951	31.3%	51.6%
1956	34.0%	47.0%
		Profits and overhead
		7.5%
		19.0%

Source — Dominion Bureau of Statistics on Construction Industry.

There is no doubt in my mind that profit-making has been responsible and the most important single cause of higher construction costs in recent years.

Too Free Speech?

I was very interested in reading the letter (Dec. 3) defining the aims and objects of the Humanist Fellowship of Victoria, particularly "Purpose No. 3"—"To uphold the principles of free speech, especially in respect to the belief in any supreme being or revealed religion."

Is the principle of free speech exclusively the privilege of Atheists and Freethinkers?

One noted local Atheist has written personal letters to me, repeatedly dubbing me as a fool, liar, illiterate, assinine, dishonest, immoral, false, ignorant, ignoramus, fanatic, insane. My patient abuseless explanations to him of what the Bible really teaches, as being stupid, foolishness, devoid of and incapable of free and serious thinking, and rubbish.

But the fact remains that all sincere, intensive Bible students realize that the Bible explains conclusively how life's problems started, how they will be permanently solved, and how (quoting your correspondent) "The welfare and happiness, not only of (Humanist) members, but of all mankind" will be attained.

Re-Emphasizing the Point

Your editorial of Friday, December 13, entitled "Four Per Cent Decision" appears to direct criticism at government employees for voting to affiliate with the Victoria Labor Council and emphasized that approximately 4 per cent of our members committed our branch. It is a fact that the actual vote was $3-25 or roughly 3 to 1. It is unfortunate that our organization, like nearly all organizations in modern society, depends on a comparatively small number of active members to run its affairs.

It also could have been emphasized that these were the same persons who turn out regularly to run the affairs of the branch and as they are a cross section of all departments, and are in contact with all members, their vote was probably a fair indication of general opinion amongst our members.

There will be some members who will be opposed to this affiliation but they could not have been very concerned because, and your editorial could have emphasized this, the matter of affiliation has been under discussion for six months at least and it was well publicized that the actual vote would be taken at our meeting on December 9.

It appears quite likely that most of our members decided to accept whatever decision was reached by the active members because in the past the work of these same active members has resulted in many benefits for government employees generally—association members and non-members.

Our general membership will also be aware that the decision taken is not irrevocable and if it becomes apparent that the affiliation is not eventually to the advantage of government employees it will be voted out the same way it was voted in. I believe our affiliation will be to the benefit of our members and that our representatives on the council will contribute to that body considerably.

The foregoing is very general as it must be in a letter of this nature and I would now like to discuss the general level of the editorial which was not up to your usual standard. It is actually notable for what it does not say rather than for what it says.

Was it your intention to imply that the council is a body that other organizations should be ashamed to join? Was it your intention to imply that it is beneath the dignity of government employees to join the council? Was it your intention to imply that government employees should continue to be a floating group in our society with limitations on their private activities? I believe your editorial was very vague and inconclusive and, in my opinion, a sad variation from your general policy.

J. D. HEINEKEY.

2130 Spring Road.

(Editor's note—The editorial which letter-writer Heinekey finds "vague and inconclusive" addressed itself only to the point which he re-emphasizes by saying "It is unfortunate that our association, like nearly all organizations in modern society, depends on a comparatively small number of active members to run its affairs.")

Look Homeward

In his hysterical outburst against the "Wicked Headlines" of certain English newspapers in making merry about the Sputnik-flopnik affair, Bruce Hutchison forgets that the local Times did the same thing with its wickedly headlined front-page "Ph-t-t-nik."

According to him these London papers were "not merely insane; they were obscene."

He should take a tranquilizing pill, and should refrain from silly un-British bombast about British achievements.

Everyone knows, or should know that Russians fought as heroically as did British in the last war.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Crux of the NATO Problem

THE crucial difference between the current meeting of the North Atlantic Allies and the many meetings that have preceded it is that for the first time the United States is asking at least as much as it can give. When NATO was first fended by the American power to deter attack by the threat of massive retaliation.

This article of faith has been, if not destroyed then at least, gravely impaired by the proof that the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in the military art of rockets and the missiles they can project. As regards the newer weapons of war, it has been shown that only by a serious effort over a good many years is the U.S. likely to come abreast of the Russians.

This has been interpreted abroad as meaning that during a dangerous interval of years both Western Europe and North America have to be defended from missile sites in Western Europe and in North Africa.

We are now as dependent for our own defence on Europe's willingness to provide the missile sites as Europe is dependent upon us to provide missiles for the sites. This is a wholly new situation, radically different from that which existed when NATO was founded, and it is in this altered situation that the present crisis has developed.

Joint Powers

We are no longer the donors in NATO. We are, it might be said, a power needing to negotiate understandings jointly and severally with many countries—all of them asking themselves whether what they are likely to receive is equal to what they are being asked to give.

I think that the extraordinarily personal hostility to Mr. John Foster Dulles in Europe is in the last analysis a reflection of this underlying change in the NATO situation.

Mr. Dulles has his faults. But he is no monster of wickedness. He was, I believe, the focal point because he has been so visible and so vocal—first, of the resentments that accumulated while he represented the great donor power and, second, he is now the focal point of the fears that have been excited because he no longer represents that strongest power of the world, on which the Europeans have staked so much.

Only the Fish Aren't Frozen

THERE aren't many of us trolling off the point of Trial these winter weekends. Most folk have better sense.

Still, to a few of the hardy, it seems good to get out on the water and drag a line. Oddly enough, we catch grise, too.

I guess fishing out there at this time is a mixture of bravado, insanity and a desire to escape the telephone and household chores. Anyhow, it blows the cobwebs away while you're on the water and makes simple house heat a luxury when you return.

If you're warmly enough clothed, my friends tell me, you can be cozy in an open boat. Of course your nose gets cold and if you have to take off your gloves your fingers grow numb. But it's surprising how much you can do without fingers.

So a man with a hole in his head big enough for the north wind to blow through dresses for the event. He starts with one of those fish-net Scandinavian undershirts, with a high potential in psychological warmth at least, pulls on woolen sweaters, interlayers a close-woven cotton shirt to stop the wind, drags on sweatpants under his dungarees, wears two pairs of socks in his heavy boots, struggles into an overcoat and dons a cap with earflaps. Then, if he isn't reduced to the immobility of a tightly-wrapped mummy, he can get into his boat.

SITTING WET

Out on the Strait the wind whips into his face, often with a slap of spray. A small wavecrest may flip over the gunwale and leave him sitting on a wet cushion.

To the northeast Mount Baker is a proud lady in white to her ankles. The Olympics lift in shuddering cold blue. The sea itself is an inhospitable green grey. The whole idea of fishing out there now is foolish.

But it has an appeal that keeps pulling a few of us out to the lighthouse point. And when the weather's decent, those who still have their boats close to water will slide them in for another day's trolling.

Sometimes that attraction makes the old-timers a little nervous. We've been around Trial enough to know that you can never be certain of the water there.

The tide run and wave patterns are almost always deceptive. You think you know them and they fool you. But it isn't particularly for ourselves that we show anxiety.

We're worried about all the folk who have made new discoveries about the fun of boating. They buy themselves smart shiny craft with good, dependable outboards. The boats and the engines are probably better than they have ever been.

But you need more than a good boat and a good motor out there. You need a certain familiarity with the water and more than a little local knowledge.

TRICKY WATER

Off the point of Trial the Victoria-Vancouver boats make their near-right-angle swing coming in or going out. The wash from them converges in a wedge, narrowing to a point as it hits the tide line. When tide and combers meet the waves not only build up to spectacular heights. They break into angry chop that comes at a boat from all directions. If you're not familiar with the area, you find you're dancing every way at once, and you're not waiting Matilda. It's dangerous.

The smart boys move out of the way when they see the ships swinging round. They know enough to get out of there. And they've judged the tide run to figure the ability of their power to take them away from danger. It isn't something you learn in a minute. It's something you learn through feel.

Even in the summer, when the boat population is fairly high around Trial, the old-timers have their misgivings about the newcomers.

That's one of the reasons they're happy to hear of water safety programs being conducted in this locality to inform new boat enthusiasts how to avoid dangers of which many are innocently ignorant.

Dr. Alan McGill, chairman of the Y Boys' Work Committee, has arranged a course for the early new year. He has lined up a lot of competent men to pass information to those who want to go boating and would profit by learning a little more about how to go boating.

When they've been instructed, they should have enough knowledge to keep away from Trial at this time of the year. They ought to leave it to people like me, who never learn.

'IN ORDER TO SURVIVE'

Stress Humanities Educator Tells Gyros

The need for an accelerated educational program in the Western World, together with greater emphasis on the humanities, was stressed by Dr. J. Beattie MacLean in an address to Gyros on Monday.

The Victoria College professor spoke of the fantastic strides made by science in the last 200 years.

He said spiritual, social and humanitarian values had failed to keep pace with it.

"In relation to our present environment," he said, "we are merely adolescents and in order to survive we must emphasize philosophy as well as science."

"If, in this adolescent fashion, we rely on force we can reap only universal destruction."

Comparing educational systems in the West he said that whereas the United Kingdom contributed 73.6 per cent to the cost of their universities and the United States 58.6 per cent, the Canadian government on a nationwide basis paid only 42 per cent.

At the University of British Columbia, Prof. MacLean said, there is only one scholarship over $125 for every 70 students.

With this lack of encouragement, he said, and the high salaries available to graduates in the sciences, it is not surprising that a critical shortage of teachers has developed.

His new appointment—to the biggest university in the Commonwealth—was announced on Monday. It is effective July 1, 1958.

Until then Toronto's dean of arts, Moffat Woodside, will continue in the post vacated by Dr. Sidney Smith Sept. 12 when he became Canada's external affairs minister in the new Progressive Conservative government.

A native of Meaford, Ont., Mr. Bissell had first-class standing all four years of his arts course at the University of Toronto. He received his master of arts degree as a Reuben Wells Leonard Fellow in 1937.

Dr. Bissell Named Prexy U. of Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Claude T. Bissell, 41, returns to the University of Toronto next summer—as president.

Dr. Bissell has been president of Carleton University in Ottawa since 1956, but before that had been associated with the University of Toronto off and on for 25 years.

His new appointment—to the biggest university in the Commonwealth—was announced on Monday. It is effective July 1, 1958.

Until then Toronto's dean of arts, Moffat Woodside, will continue in the post vacated by Dr. Sidney Smith Sept. 12 when he became Canada's external affairs minister in the new Progressive Conservative government.

A native of Meaford, Ont., Mr. Bissell had first-class standing all four years of his arts course at the University of Toronto. He received his master of arts degree as a Reuben Wells Leonard Fellow in 1937.

Mental Sickness Guide

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Authorities tell me that at some time or other during his life one out of every 10 persons in the United States will behave so abnormally that he will need help in a mental hospital. This fact should be remembered by those many persons who tell me they cannot see why, every so often in this column, I talk about insanity. Many say that because their family is so full of persons with mental upsets they do not want to hear another word about it.

It distresses me to make these people unhappy, but since mental aberration is our commonest disease, I feel I want to help all the good people who are now trying to get for us better mental hospitals and clinics. It worries me that we physicians know so little about mental disease and care so little to learn about it. Usually, we fail to recognize it in those early stages in which the person keeps talking mainly about pain in his abdomen or feelings of fear or fatigue or tension or toxicity. At first, the family is not likely to realize what is going wrong. They may just keep blaming their relative for being lazy or "ornery" or abusive, stubborn, or occasionally a bit alcoholic.

For all the many persons who must face the terribly distressing problem of caring for a mentally disturbed relative, Mrs. Edith Stern has written a splendid book, called, "Mental Illness: A Guide for the Family" (Harper's); also distributed by the National Association for Mental Health (Columbus Circle, New York 19, N.Y.).

As Mrs. Stern says, most laymen and most physicians have the idea that the psychotic person is a disheveled muttering creature who tears his hair, doesn't know where he is, or thinks he is Napoleon. Actually, in many cases, the person who is becoming a bit manic will be more attractive socially than he ever was. He will talk more brilliantly, and he may start traveling about, spending money freely; he may give big parties for his friends or he may join a church and try to convert people. Later, when he gets depressed, he may just sit and brood on imaginary sins. The man who is getting paranoid may seem all right and may make much money in business. The only thing wrong may be his idea that the man in the next house is persecuting him by beaming radar at him.

Let us say that eventually the family comes to realize that their loved one needs psychiatric care. Perhaps he has become a nuisance to the neighbors, and it has become obvious, that for a while, he will have to be kept out of harm's way.

In such a case often we doctors are of little use. We have only a vague idea as to what to do. We do not know anything about mental hospitals, and we do not know what is the law in regard to commitment. In college we weren't taught much about these things. As Mrs. Stern says, a man can go into a store and find any number of books on how to run a household, how to train a dog, or how to behave at a dinner party, but until recently there was no book to tell us what the inside of a mental hospital is like, or how to get a disturbed patient into the place without getting into a fight with him, and causing him to distrust us for the rest of his days.

For all persons who are faced with these terrible problems, Mrs. Stern's book can be of tremendous help. It tells how to get the patient to the hospital; it tells how to keep in contact with the loved one, and how to treat him when he comes out.

Mrs. Stern emphasizes what Mr. Clifford Beers said years ago in his remarkable book, "The Mind That Found Itself"; one must never shanghai a patient into a mental hospital, or, in other words, get him locked up by some deceit. Naturally, deceit will anger him; it will turn him against his family, and it may make his mental confusion greater than it was before. One must be even more scrupulously honest with mentally disturbed persons than with normal persons. Normal persons can make allowances for our unwisdom or our good intentions, but the insane person cannot make any allowances; he cannot understand why his wife or his brother behaved dishonestly with him, and so he puts no more trust in her or him.

MYASTHENIA GRAVIS

There is a miserable disease, fortunately rare, in which a person's muscles become so weak he can hardly chew or hold his head up. Often it tires him even to swallow or hold his mouth closed. Fortunately, there are a few drugs that strengthen the muscles and help the patient. Today, there is a Myasthenia Gravis Association that is helping research workers to find out more about the disease. Recently, I read that bits of muscle taken from patients with myasthenia gravis and caused to grow through many generations in a test tube, will keep growing always as diseased muscle. Muscle taken from normal persons will keep growing as normal muscle. This shows that the disease is due to some basic abnormality in the muscle fibers.

VETERANS HAD FIRST CHOICE BUT SHOWED LITTLE INTEREST

Contractors Snap Up Lansdowne Project Lots

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Eighty lots were snapped up by private contractors when veterans and other home seekers showed little interest in buying bargain price property on the government financed Lansdowne subdivision in Saanich.

Contractors have 25 homes under construction or completed on the 55-acre site lying between Lansdowne, Richmond, Shelbourne and Newton. Another 55 homes will be completed by the end of March.

and Housing Corporation, said 132 lots were first offered to veterans and non-veterans before the property was sold to contractors.

Only 28 persons took advantage of the offer during the year it stood.

The lots were offered at $1,450 and $1,550 with sewage, water, paved roads and curbs fully paid. This represents for a home owner a saving of about $1,000 in taxes over a period of 20 years.

open to contractors in October, Mr. Dowling said, just were sold within a week.

He said 14 lots were retained for sale to private individuals who might yet be interested. These are mostly facing Richmond Road.

CMHC officials believe the lots did not sell well to private individuals because the average person has difficulty in assessing the value of property.

NO TREES
"The land was bare and was without trees," said one official. "It did not look too tempting at the time because there was nothing on it."

Since contractors bought the lots, the subdivision has become the most active building site in Greater Victoria.

Contractors are confident the homes will sell "like hot cakes."

To the south of the subdivision, CCMHC has set aside an area for commercial use. This is expected to be developed as soon as homes on the housing site are completed and sold.

Simpson-Sears Ltd. has bought a large block of land in the commercial zone and is expected to start construction of a $1,000,000 department store as soon as the area is populated.

School Trustees Spurn Request By Council for Salary Meeting

An angry refusal was issued by Greater Victoria School Board Monday to a city council request for a joint meeting before settlement of 1958 wage contracts with district teachers.

"It's the school board's business," until the budget is presented to council, said trustee Walter Jeune.

"I am interested that council supports us, but they cannot in effect direct us. Council decisions don't help us at all," said board chairman W. H. Golby.

The refusal to meet with city council on the requested teachers' salary increase of 18 per cent ($53,355) was almost the last official act of both trustees. They retire from office this month.

GOING TOO FAR

Trustee Richard Reeve, representing Esquimalt, said he was "alarmed" at the inference.

The board welcomes a meeting with district councils each spring on presentation of the school budgets, he said. But "I think this is going somewhat beyond that."

"This is a qualification by the council of a matter which is entirely our responsibility—a responsibility to which we were elected by the people."

"With all respect, no council is better qualified than this board," to deal with the matter, he added.

Trustee A. H. Wilson was the only board member to vote for a meeting with council. He felt a meeting might lead to better understanding between the two elected bodies, and better public relations.

Building Permit Values Show Drop

OTTAWA (BUP)—The value of building permits issued in October declined by 12 per cent to $152,635,000, from the total issued during the same month last year.

The Bureau of Statistics said values were lower in all provinces except Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and British Columbia.

SECOND THOUGHTS NEEDED

Fountain Traffic Better

A re-check of traffic through the Fountain roundabout soon may prove the bottleneck of the past has been greatly reduced, assistant city engineer Norman Worsley said Monday.

Officials have noted an easier progress of traffic through the intersection since installation of traffic signals at Burnside. The lights have interrupted the steady flow of cars from the north.

Bay Street is soon to operate as a thoroughfare and is expected to draw from traffic now entering the circle, to proceed west on Hillside.

Installation of traffic lights on Bay at Blanshard, Quadra, Cook and Fernwood is now underway and should be completed in about 10 days. They will be synchronized for speedy handling of east-west traffic.

These new factors will be studied over an extended period before any report on the future of the roundabout is submitted to city council.

Council has already decided to replace the circle with a one-way street plan combined with a series of lights and islands.

However, some officials think the combined effect of the new Point Ellice Bridge, the changes to Bay Street and the Burnside light, could be sufficient to alter present plans.

NANAIMO—More than 7,000 pounds of ingredients required for Nanaimo's 10,000-pound centennial cake have been donated, according to centennial chairman George Molecey.

"The response by wholesalers throughout the province has been astounding," he said.

Corner stores from Duncan to Bowser have also been sending pledges of donations of needed ingredients.

More than 12,000 pounds of raisins, butter, eggs, cherries and other items are required for the cake on account of shrinkage and loss in mixing. Baking of the cake will start at the end of next month.

It will be shipped over from Vancouver in 45-pound blocks.

The giant cake will be on show in downtown Nanaimo from June through August, then cut into some 60,000 pieces, packaged in small illustrated boxes ready for mailing.

Indians Forward Protest

CAMPBELL RIVER — Coroner Dr. N. B. Hall brought in a finding of accidental death through drowning Monday, after an inquiry into the deaths of Stella Dick, eight, and Shirley Moon, nine.

The two Indian girls were trapped in the galley of the fishing boat Eva D-1, which sank in Georgia Strait Saturday night while it was carrying a party of 22 from a Christmas party on the north coast of Quadra Island to Cape Mudge reservation, on the south coast of the island.

Cape Mudge is three miles from here.

Dr. Hall said the accident was caused after the seiner had been holed by a piece of floating breakwater.

Robert Clifton, president of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, said the coroner's finding would be forwarded to Ottawa as a protest against the wooden breakwater at Cape Mudge.

He said the brotherhood has been seeking construction of a rock breakwater at the village since a wooden extension to the present breakwater was erected last year.

Contract Awarded To Cut Timber At Campbell Lake

CAMPBELL RIVER — Contract for removal of timber from Lower Campbell Lake has been awarded by the B.C. Power Commission to William Hall and Calvin Smith.

The contract calls for the salvage and removal of logs from certain sections of the shoreline of Lower Campbell Lake, the contractors to pay the commission for all material salvaged from the lake at a fixed scale of rates.

The award is a continuation of the Lower Campbell Lake clean-up. Commission engineers said that the contract will materially assist the clean-up except for burning of debris, which will be undertaken as soon as all merchantable timber is removed.

Canada Favors West Talks With Russ

PARIS (CP) — Canada has last moment, and into which he interpolated new thoughts during the actual delivery, was never made available textually to reporters, although a late briefing by the Canadian delegation spelled out the salient ideas.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, addressing the North Atlantic summit conference Monday night, said he feels that the recent Soviet proposals for an East-West meeting "must be measured in the light of the earlier refusal by the U.S.S.R. to participate further in the disarmament commission" of the United Nations.

But the West "must continue to demonstrate a willingness to negotiate with the Soviet Union."

LITTLE REACTION

There was little immediate reaction in the Paris press to the Canadian speech. Of six Paris morning newspapers, only two mentioned Diefenbaker's participation in Monday's meeting of the NATO ministerial council discussions. These were the right-of-centre Le Parisien and the left-wing Combat.

President Eisenhower, French Premier Gaillard and West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer—all of whom had their speeches prepared well in advance and made available to the press either before or during the delivery—got the play.

The Canadian prime minister's speech, on which he and his advisers worked until the gling desperately for economic advance."

Diefenbaker pledged Canada's wholehearted support to the principle of interdependence enunciated by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan following their meeting two months ago.

"We must see how we can organize our collective resources to render impregnable the defensive capacity of the Atlantic alliance in the nuclear era," said Diefenbaker.

Speaking from his place at the blue-covered circular table in the unadorned conference hall, Diefenbaker said NATO could promote co-operation of its member countries' scientific programs.

Canada's aircraft industry,

"now seriously underemployed owing to the stage reached in our own defence," provided an "opportunity for fruitful work if we can devise methods of joint development of advanced weapons."

In his reference to possible negotiations with the Russians, the prime minister said:

GROWING IMPATIENT

"Opinion in many countries, including my own, grows impatient with the argument that the West is not yet prepared for discussions. We must continue to demonstrate our willingness to negotiate with the Soviet Union. This will require greater flexibility of approach in the light of changing circumstances."

"We feel particularly frustrated by the lack of co-operation by the Soviet Union in the field of disarmament because of the importance Canadians as a whole attach, under adequate safeguards, to the cessation of nuclear tests."

"We recognize that public feeling is very strong on this issue and we would continue to give it high priority if and when negotiations can be resumed."

NATO Urged To Talk Over Bid by Russia

PARIS (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan said today the west should be ready to discuss and debate the recent proposals of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Macmillan made his suggestion during Monday afternoon's session of the NATO chiefs of government.

He was referring to the letters the Soviet premier sent to the heads of the NATO powers on the eve of the alliance's summit conference which opened today.

Macmillan said: "... When we have to consider our answer to this prolonged and wide-spread correspondence which we have received from Mr. Bulganin, I think we must not be unwilling to enter into discussions, debates and restatements of our position ..."

This, the British prime minister said, would serve to "fortify any of those who may be weakened and to prove to them and to ourselves that we have done all that honorable men could do to see for peace."

Bulganin proposed a non-aggression pact between the NATO powers and the Warsaw Pact countries. He also hinted at the need for another East-West summit meeting and renewed old proposals for an end to nuclear tests.

The West's position on the latter point is that nuclear tests should not be ended until there can be a guarantee against further weapon production.

Order Early...for a Full Year at the Wheel!

The man you see above, talking with his Cadillac dealer, has just done a wise thing.

From the first instant he saw the new 1958 Cadillac, he knew he would want to make this his year to own and drive the "car of cars"—and so, at the earliest possible moment, he came in to place his order for the color and model of his choice.

And what a sound decision it was!

For an early order means an early delivery—and an early delivery means a long acquaintance with all that is new and current in this finest of Cadillacs!

And how rewarding those virtues are for 1958!

Here, for example is Cadillac styling at its majestic

best. In motion on the highway, arriving at a distinguished club or hotel, or simply parked at the curbside—it is the inevitable object of the deepest respect and admiration.

Here, too, is Fleetwood coachcrafting at its most bountiful. Behind the wheel and in the passenger's seat, this great motor car carries its occupants with a degree of comfort and luxury and graciousness that will surprise and delight even the most experienced of Cadillac owners.

And here is Cadillac engineering at its finest. From silken start to silken stop, it is a revelation in everything a motor car can and should be.

Lucky the man who will enjoy all of these prized Cadillac rewards this year. And doubly blessed the man who will claim them with an early delivery of the car of his dreams.

Remember, then, that time is of the essence!

Whatever your favorite Cadillac model—whether it be the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the fabulous Eldorado Brougham—your Cadillac dealer will be your grateful host at any time—and he will be delighted to give you full details on any of Cadillac's twelve new models.

Minors Sizzle Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The decision of the Columbia Broadcasting System to telecast a Sunday major league Game-of-the-Week next season has brought bitter comment from baseball officials.

Said Commissioner Ford Frick:

"It's a bad thing for baseball and I'm sorry some of our clubs are going in for it."

"I'm hoping that Congress will provide legislation that will take us out of the hands of the justice department and give us the right to regulate such telecasts."

Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy, president of the International League and chairman of the minor leagues' committee to block the telecasts, blasted CBS' plan to black out areas where minor league teams are playing home games as "just a cover."

"They know as well as we do that the blackout can cover only a certain area," he said.

DEFY ORDER

He also maintained that the network has disregarded a congressional order in making its plans. Shaughnessy said CBS had been "warned" by a House of Representatives committee on monopolies not to proceed with its plans until hearings on the matter are completed.

Minor leagues czar George Trautman was equally unhappy.

"Apparently Columbia has but one thing in mind and that is the preservation of Columbia and the destruction of the minors," he said.

He added that the minors will continue to pursue the course of their request in Congress.

CBS for its part, would admit only that it is "still in the procedure of negotiating" for the games, but the Associated Press learned that the plans had been completed.

Five teams—Cleveland, Chicago, and New York of the American League and Philadelphia and Cincinnati of the National—are reported involved in the Sunday telecasts.

Last season both CBS and the National Broadcasting Company (which has a Saturday Game-of-the-Week) blacked out the telecasts within a 50-mile radius of major league cities and in minor league cities where they conflicted with regularly-scheduled games.

Some observers interpreted CBS' decision as a counter move to NBC's entry into the Saturday Game-of-the-Week picture last season.

Dodger Pitch For Rose Bowl On Its Way

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' quest for a stadium to play their baseball games next season moves into an open hearing today before this city's board of directors.

The seven-man board has promised Dodger president Walter O'Malley a quick "yes or no" on whether Pasadena is interested in having the former Brooklyn club play in the famed 100,000-seat Rose Bowl.

O'Malley made a pitch for the Rose Bowl last Wednesday after negotiations for Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum became stalemated. The Dodger president balked at the coliseum commission's policy of charging rent of 10 per cent of the gross with the Dodgers receiving none of the revenue from concessions.

The Dodgers are faced with the situation of being all dressed up with no place to play next season. O'Malley had hoped to have a stadium built in the Chavez Ravine area of Los Angeles by the 1959 season, but his land deal with the city must be submitted to the voters on a referendum.

Four-for-Four Swap Shakes Up NHL Scene

CHICAGO (UP)—Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings, the two bottom-place teams, are the talk of the National Hockey League today following an eight-player trade.

Announcement of the trade, covering four players from each club, was made this morning. It's the largest mid-season swap in the Big Top in several years. The Hawks, displaying almost a complete lack of scoring power in their last dozen or so games, will get centre Earl (Dutch) Reibel, right wing Bill Dineen, left wing Lorne Ferguson and left wing Billy Dea.

REPORT IMMEDIATELY

The four new Black Hawks will report immediately and practice with the team Thursday. The new Wings will be in the Detroit lineup when the team meets Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night.

During the weekend Detroit and Chicago play a "back-to-back" doubleheader, meeting Saturday afternoon at the Chicago Stadium and Sunday night at the Detroit Olympia.

Hawks' spokesman Johnny Gottselig said the key man in the trade as far as the Hawks are concerned is Reibel. The 27-year-old centre has four goals and five assists thus far this season. Before the Red Wings traded Ted Lindsay to the Hawks after last season, Reibel teamed up with Lindsay and Gordie Howe to make one of hockey's most respected scoring lines.

NO BIG NAMES

None of the players involved in the swap, however, has been outstanding as a scorer this season. Dineen, 25, has two goals and four assists; Ferguson, one and three; Dea four and four. Mickoski, 30, has five goals and six assists, but he has not had a goal in 11 games. Bailey has only three and six, and McIntyre, who last year accounted for one of the few bright spots in the Hawks' lineup, has no goals and four assists. Lalonde, 23, has a 2-2 record.

Pancho Loses Set To Net Promoter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, who reigns supreme on the tennis court, came out a loser in Superior Court Monday.

The pro tennis champion, who has been battling promoter Jack Kramer for an extra 10 per cent of the take in their touring tennis show, was overruled by Superior Judge Leon David.

Pancho claimed Kramer made a verbal offer to increase the amount from 20 to 30 per cent, but the judge ruled that a verbal offer does not overrule a written contract.

FOR COUGAR FANS

Regular meeting of the Victoria Cougar Fan Club will be held in the lobby of Memorial Arena tonight at 8 p.m. The meeting will discuss plans for the club's "Meet-the-Cougars" party to be held Friday night.

Trimble, whose steamroller Ti-Cats brought the Grey Cup back to Eastern Canada this year, Monday denied reports he plans to leave Hamilton for a coaching job with Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League.

He said he and his family like Hamilton and he wants to stay "as long as we're wanted."

Rumors of possible separation may be somewhat embarrassing to the former Philadelphia Eagles coach but there's no evidence he has suffered financially.

After his first year at Hamilton in 1956, there were stories he was negotiating for the post with Indiana University. The reports dried up when Trimble signed a three-year contract with Hamilton for a reported $18,000 a year. If accurate, that figure would make him the highest paid coach in Canadian football.

Trimble returned to his home at nearby Burlington from Chicago Saturday. The trip gave rise to reports he might be in line for the coaching job with the Cardinals.

"Sure I was a guest of Walter Wolfner (Chicago executive)," Trimble said, "but it wasn't because I wanted to coach the club ... Primarily I went down that way over a week ago to line up players for next season."

Asked whether he signed any one, Trimble said: "No. But we are close."

General manager Jake Gaudin, of Ti-Cats said: "Jim has a three-year contract with us and we expect he'll be our coach for that period. If he ever does decide to go back to the NFL we won't try to stop him."

New Cougar on His Way, So, Look Sharp, Fellows!

Someone's Job in Jeopardy When Cats Go After Royals

That long-sought defensive assistance that Victoria Cougars have been after is on its way. Acquisition of defenceman Bud Syverson from Calgary Stampede was announced late Monday afternoon by manager Colin Kilburn.

And while Kilburn did not promise Cougar fans first place in the Western Hockey League as a Christmas bonus, the fiery playing manager was quick to make one prediction:

"A few of the boys will be working for their jobs Wednesday," Kilburn vowed. "That includes rookies and veterans alike."

The Cougars have a date with the front-running New Westminster Royals on Wednesday, Shriners' night at Memorial Arena.

Kilburn does not expect Syverson, a good "hitter," who is in his third season with the professionals, to reach Victoria in time for Wednesday's game. "But if he's here," Kilburn said, "he'll dress. Syverson will definitely suit up for Saturday's game here with Seattle."

The Cougar masterminds, Kilburn and coach Pat Egan, did not say what player will be released to make room for Syverson. Kilburn did, however, provide fans with a hint:

"It may be a defenceman or it may be a forward. It could also be a rookie or we might just let a veteran go. We'll just wait and see how they go on Wednesday."

Syverson, Kilburn added, was due to join Cougars a week ago. Calgary coach Frank Currie, who has been having more than a few worries with the last-place club on the Prairies, changed his mind and Syverson remained in Cowtown for another week. The deal was finally completed Monday.

Bud Can Help Keep Royals 'Honest'

Syverson played junior with Medicine Hat Tigers for four seasons before turning pro with the Stamps. His rookie season turned out to be an eye-opening debut as the blond rearguard picked up 146 minutes in the penalty box in 70 games. Last year, in 52 games with Vancouver Canucks, he was penalized 99 minutes.

On the strength of his penalty count, he may be the man Cougars need to keep rival forwards "honest." One of the disappointing aspects of Cougars' play to date has been the reluctance, by Victoria rearguards, to body-check incoming forwards.

Syverson, who stands 5-10 and weighs 175 pounds, scored two goals in each of his two previous pro seasons. He was credited with 14 assists in 1956 and eight last year. His record this year is one goal, three assists and 38 minutes in penalties.

Kilburn also announced that centre, Gord Haworth, who missed Sunday night's 6-3 victory over the Americans in Seattle, will "probably" return to the Victoria lineup Wednesday.

X-rays taken Monday showed a painful side injury, sustained in Saturday's game against Vancouver, turned out to be a case of bruised ribs. If Haworth is ready, then Egan will probably move Kilburn back on defence. The playing manager moved up to his old wing slot for Sunday's game.

Gord Refuses to Go to Seattle

In other player news on the circuit, left winger Gord Hannigan, bought a month ago from Toronto Maple Leafs of the National League, was suspended Monday by Edmonton Flyers after he refused to report to Seattle Americans following a straight cash sale.

"Hannigan was a great disappointment to us," said manager Bud Poile of the Flyers. "He certainly didn't live up to our expectations."

"So we felt we had no alternative but to concede we had made a bad deal, so we offered him to the Seattle team. Keith Allen (general manager and coach of the Americans) made a pitch for him, but Hannigan told me he wouldn't report."

"That meant we had no alternative but to suspend him, since we have a substantial investment in him," Poile added. During his short hitch in the Western League, Hannigan picked up only 12 points in 25 games. This is far below last year's pace when he amassed 61 points with Rochester Americans in the American League.

Poile also said Flyers will support a reduction to 12 from the present 15 in the number of men allowed to dress for each game.

An announcement is expected some time this week on a poll of WHL clubs concerning the suggested 12-man roster.

Most of the support for the 12-man limit will come from the Prairies. Kilburn said Cougars are "definitely against" the proposal and other Coast Division teams feel the same way.

11TH HOUR DECISION

Flam's Jitters Cause Benching

MELBOURNE (AP)—Captain Bill Talbert began trying to mend the shaken morale of his United States Davis Cup team today after loss of the team's No. 2 singles player, Herbie Flam.

The ailing retriever from Beverly Hills, Calif., was benched in a midnight deadline decision and Talbert named Vic Seixas, Gardner Mulloy, and two youngsters—Barry Mackay and Ron Holmberg—to the squad slated to face the Australians in the challenge round Dec. 26-28.

Flam was omitted at the suggestion of a doctor who said his nervous condition and worry over form made it necessary that he drop competitive tennis for a while.

Talbert said he is undecided how the Americans would array their forces against the heavily favored Australians.

"The only thing certain is that Seixas will play singles," he said.

Apparently Mackay has the inside track for the other singles berth and Seixas and Mulloy will be teamed for the doubles despite their loss to the Belgian team in last week's inter-zone final.

Meantime, the Australians continued practicing in privacy on the South Yarra courts about a mile from the city.

Captain Harry Hopman is working hard with Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper who are scheduled to play singles, and Mervyn Rose who teams with Anderson in doubles.

School Building Costs Said Less Than Homes

Elder Citizens Ask Frills Cut Out of Schools

Request was made to Greater Victoria School Board Monday that it either drastically cut its budget or "exempt" older citizens from the cost of frills.

Friendly Aid Society, Federated Legislative Committee, Elder Citizens' Association of Vancouver, said it referred to "school entertainment, car driving instruction, dancing lessons, coffee bars and parking lots for cars."

Esquimalt Trustee Richard Reeve took exception.

He said all these activities were either self-sustaining or at so little cost to the budget as to be unnoticeable.

"Anybody with such imposing titles should be more sure of their facts," he said.

The board will reply to the association that its problem is more one for the government than the school board, "although the board is sympathetic."

Chamber Requires $1,250 to Pay For Gay Lighting

Victoria Chamber of Commerce needs at least $1,250 to cover costs of its downtown Christmas lighting scheme.

These include strings of colored lights, Christmas stars, holly baskets and the illuminated seasonal greetings sign strung across the Causeway.

"We shall be in an awkward position if we cannot raise $1,250 from city merchants to meet these expenses," Arnold Webb, secretary manager of the Chamber, said today.

"Many city merchants have already contributed generously but we still need several hundred dollars towards the required total."

Mr. Webb said some merchants are under the impression the city council pays for Christmas lighting.

"It is true the city has contributed $750 to the cost of the holly baskets. We have to pay for the lighting effects and the power as well."

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Victoria District Notes—"Scouting Explained" courses were given to Gordon Head and View Royal groups during the past week by Frank Nelson and Robert Milks.

Godfrey Johnson was elected chairman of the Green Plume Court-of-Honor held at district headquarters on Thursday. Tentative plans were drawn up for the coming season. They included map and compass run, a patrol leaders' conference in March and a swim meet and camporee in the late spring.

Colwood Group—The annual meeting of the group committee elected Jack-Lawrie as chairman; Mrs. P. Paget, vice-chairman; Mrs. R. Clark, secretary; and Mrs. H. Amodeo, treasurer.

At a recent meeting of the pack, Charles Moor, Bobby Davies, Mark Clark, Wayne Wolf, Wesley Braham, John Gibbs, Ralph Ridley, Billy Jameson and Michael Fraser were invested as Wolf Cubs.

Kenny Amodeo, Donald Moore and Stephen Lawrie were promoted to be "seconds" and D. Dutton to be a "sixer" of the pack.

Lyle Kerr, Mark Vasey and Jack Panter received their second proficiency stars.

There are 30 boys on the roll. Several are hoping to move on to the Scout troop if one can be formed. There has not been an active troop for some time.

Windsor Park Troop—Second Class badges were presented to Jack Angus, Michael Bell, Dennis Chambers, Dennis Williams and Michael Young at the Wednesday meeting.

Invested as Scouts were Rod Clayards, Peter Guernsey, Danny Moss, Allan Salter, Bob Wicks and Greg Bowder. The troop will hold a swim meeting at the Crystal Garden next Wednesday evening.

Third Victoria—Chinese Group: Meetings have resumed now that the floor in the hall has been relayed. On Friday evening the packs did handicraft work by making Christmas bells.

The troops replace equipment and gear in the hall and cleaned up the balcony for the church.

The annual Christmas party will be held next Friday—the pack at 6.30 p.m. and the troop at 8 p.m.

Inspector Says Unfair Methods Used In Comparing Construction Values

Basic costs of modern school construction are far less than those of new homes, Greater Victoria School Board was told Monday.

Senior inspector John Gough criticized "inaccurate and unfair methods sometimes employed in determining the cost of school construction compared with that of other buildings."

He said new contracts show reinforced concrete high school construction costs $10.25 a square foot, and a frame construction school will cost $9.60 a square foot.

Local architects set the current price for house construction at $11 per square foot, he stated.

Many persons take the overall cost of a school and divide it by the number of rooms and come up with a cost per room of $30,000 to $40,000, said Mr. Gough.

"The fair way is to compute the cost on a square foot basis (taking in) the additional service areas—corridors, wash rooms, stairs, furnace room, health room, etc."

He quoted a recent report by the American Association of School Administrators which said in the last 20 years school building costs have increased 150 per cent. But other buildings are up 210 per cent, highways 200 per cent, labor 330 per cent, skilled labor 220 per cent, materials 200 per cent and cars 200 per cent.

"Schools appear to be more costly than they actually are because they are actually so useful from end to end. Long straight lines have replaced the former ornate architecture."

Economy has resulted from elimination of gables, parapets, towers and "various forms of gingerbread."

In reviewing the past year, Mr. Gough pointed to the completion of additions to Mount View High School, Margaret Jenkins School and the new maintenance shops. Additions were started on six other schools and one new school, Marigold, was started.

He said at present there are 41 occupied schools with 19,031 pupils, 687 teachers and supervisors, 48 office workers and 170 janitors and craftsmen, under jurisdiction of the board.

Andrew Sheret Ltd., 712 Bay Street, has advised the city of Victoria it will claim $135 in damages due to a broken water main which flooded its premises, Nov. 2.

Theft of a Christmas tree, lights and decorations from the roof of Terry's Auto Service, 650 Burnside, overnight Sunday, was reported to police Monday.

Total value of the display was placed at $25.

Hugh Renfrew, 501 Niagara, told police he left his auto parked at the rear of the Curling Rink, Blanshard St., Saturday night and a thief forced a window, took a wallet containing $20 and a flashlight from the car.

Norman McKibbin, 717 Discovery, now serving a jail sentence for impaired driving Monday was given additional sentences of $35 or 7 days for careless driving and $50 or 10 days for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

He appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court. Court ordered the alternative days in jail would be served consecutively to the present sentence.

Traffic Office Closed 2½ Days For Christmas

City police traffic department will close for the paying of fines and parking tickets at 12.30 Dec. 24 and reopen at 9 a.m. Dec. 27 to give office staff a two and one-half day Christmas holiday.

The same holiday applies to all members of the city's inside staff.

In connection with tickets for which fines are acceptable out of court, the long holiday will be taken into consideration and no penalty for lateness will be made for tickets issued Dec. 23 and 24.

Winter is here and most places are ready to welcome the snow. The everyday world is transformed into a super-duper birthday cake. Some people travel miles to ski down mountain slopes. Others have just as much snowy fun in the park. Even the fields and forests welcome the snow. It acts like a blanket and keeps the frost from the deep tree roots. Later on it will melt and turn to water. The water will seep down through the soil for the plants to drink.

We know, of course, that the snow comes with cool weather. It is formed from the moisture in the air. This moisture is in the form of gaseous vapor. It is made of particles too small for our eyes to see. On a warm day, millions of these particles might join together to make a droplet of mist, for a cloud. When conditions are right, countless cloud droplets join together to form a raindrop.

But when the air is cool, the gassy vapor in the air cannot become mist or raindrops. It turns into snowflakes instead. The air must be below freezing point. When this is so, mist and vapor must turn into ice. For this is what happens to all liquid water at freezing point. It becomes solid ice.

The tiny particles of moisture in the air become tiny particles of ice. Instead of joining together to make raindrops, countless fragments of ice team up to make a snowflake. They crystallize. And Nature has very strict rules about crystallization. Each solid substance has to follow its own design when it comes to making a crystal.

Somewhat the tiny fragments of ice know that their crystal must be a six-sided hexagon. Whatever larger object they make must have six sides, exactly alike. Countless numbers of these fragments of ice team up to make of all things, a six-sided snowflake.

ments of clear ice in the snowflake also lose their transparency. The snowflake becomes a delicate dolly made of fragments of ice and pockets of air.

The colder it is, the less moisture is in the air. When the air is just above freezing point, we tend to get larger snowflakes and more of them. These big pom-pom snowflakes are really a number of snowflakes clinging together. On a really cold day, the snowflakes tend to be smaller. This may be because there is less moisture with which to make snowflakes.

Maybe you have heard that it sometimes gets too cold for snow. This is not quite true. For however cold, however dry the air becomes, it still contains some moisture. And when conditions are right, this moisture can become snow. At one time in Alaska they had snow when the thermometer read minus 52 degrees Fahrenheit.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Randy A. Bardone, age eight, of Visalia, California, for his question: "What is the Venus Flytrap?"

The Venus Flytrap is a meat-eating plant. It is a native of the damp, sandy swamps of the Carolinas. In these areas there is not enough nitrogen chemical in the soil. The plant has to get this nourishment elsewhere. Perhaps it is lucky this meat eater is a very small plant. It is too small to eat even a mouse. The best it can do is to capture and digest insects.

The trap is a fancy affair at the end of each leaf. The midrib of the leaf is a hinge, able to open and close the two lobes. The edge of the leaf wears a row of spikes. Altogether, the leaf looks rather like a small net trap.

The trap is baited with red-dish dew. A fly alights to investigate. She steps on a sensitive hair which triggers the hinge. The trap springs shut. The leaf pours out juices which digest the insects.

SHE'S BRUNETTE NOW

Shirley Temple, 29, Going Back to Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Shirley Temple, who started her career as a cuddly blonde two-year-old, is returning to show business as a glamorous brunette of 29.

Starting Jan. 12 she'll appear on NBC television as hostess of the Shirley Temple storybook, hour-long presentations of fairy tales. She'll also act in three of the tales, marking her return to acting for the first time since 1949.

In addition, four of her childhood movies were released to TV this fall, displaying her ingenious artistry to a whole new generation. Mothers who once cherished their own Shirley Temple dolls can now buy them for their daughters.

Shirley herself is delighted by the resurgence of her career.

"A lot of women wrote me that they got out their old Shirley Temple dolls to give to their daughters and found the dolls cracked and ruined," she said.

"So I put in a phone call to the president of the company that used to make them. It turned out the man I talked to was the son of the former president. He said he'd think the proposal over. In 20 minutes he called back and said they'd had a directors' meeting and decided to put out the doll again."

Until recently she had been content to remain Mrs. Charles Black of Atherton, Calif., wife of an executive of the Ampex electronics firm. She had a growing family—Linda, Susan, 10; Charles Jr., five and one-half; and Lori, three and one-half.

SCHOOL BOARD ROUNDUP

Night Events in Schools To Be Watched by Police

In the event of trouble at evening functions in Greater Victoria area schools, police can be on the scene within three minutes.

Trustees Monday night heard a report on a meeting last month between district police authorities and Trustees Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsell and Walter Thompson. They were told police will take special note of night activities at schools if advised in advance, although they will not enter the buildings ... "unless asked to."

Medical insurance coverage will be provided by the school

Trustees-elect, Mrs. A. B. Thompson of Saanich and W. R. Freethy, of Oak Bay, attended the meeting, were seated at the board table and invited to attend an in-camera session which followed the regular board meeting.

Trustee Walter Jeune recalled 19 years of school board service during his farewell remarks to the board.

He is retiring "for a one-year rest." But he said he will not try to return to the school board.

The board approved a motion to increase the services of school dentist Dr. Alex Salter and his assistant from half-time to full-time commencing Jan. 1.

A $465,443 contract for additions to Oak Bay Senior High School was approved for signing with Luney Brothers & Hamilton, who were low bidders.

The contract price is well within the $525,000 original school board estimate for the job.

An added expenditure of $10,811 was added to the cost of Marigold School. This is the cost of removing 720 cubic yards of rock, not included in the lump sum contract at time of bidding.

Arrangements have been made with department of national defence for transfer of 62 students who live on DND property in Esquimalt and at Belmont Park, to district 61 high and junior high schools, in September.

Some now attend the DND John Stubbs Memorial School at Belmont Park and others attend Belmont High in Sooke School District.

The federal government will pay $150 per student per year. The youngsters will be distributed throughout the school system until construction of the new Esquimalt High School.

Truancy is on the decline in Greater Victoria schools, the board was told Monday night.

Truant officers reported this board to 218 office workers, janitors and craftsmen starting January 1.

Decision to participate in the MSA medical plan, for all employees but teachers, was reached by the board Monday night.

It was pointed out the Public Schools Act prohibits the board from extending similar coverage to teachers.

Under the scheme, the board will pay 50 per cent of the premiums and the employees 50 per cent. If all eligible employees sign up for MSA, cost to the board will be about $10,100.

NO WAGE DEMAND
The request for MSA coverage was the only request put forward by the bargaining committee of the Greater Victoria School Board Employees' Association in current negotiations. The agreement represents the first contract settlement in the Greater Victoria civic union negotiations, for 1958.

after making 137 visits to homes and innumerable visits to theatres, stores, bowling alleys and other similar places during the fall school term.

The board approved a proposed field trip to Nelson area next April by S. J. Willis band.

The trip is financed by the students, parents and school funds and is no expense to the board.

Asked why S. J. Willis is the only school undertaking these trips, inspector John Gough said:

"The school has the spirit to organize them. Any other school band could do the same."

The band has travelled as far afield as Wellington, Ont.

Unemployment In Canada Hits 292,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian unemployed increased by 84,000 to 292,000 in the month ended Nov. 16, the bureau of statistics estimated today.

The figure was more than double the 135,000 of a year earlier and compared with that of 208,000 in the bureau's last previous monthly survey at Oct. 19.

In a joint statement issued simultaneously, the labor department reported that at Nov. 14 there were 352,044 persons registered for work at National Employment Service offices. These do not necessarily represent jobless, an unknown proportion seeking shifts from one job to another.

These figures represented an increase of 73,346 from a month earlier and 149,882 from a year earlier.

LARGER THAN USUAL
Total employment was estimated at 5,698,000 at Nov. 16, down by 99,000 from a month previously but up by 68,000 from November, 1956.

The October-to-November decline in employment was described as larger than usual for this time of year.

The labor force was estimated at 5,990,000, down less than the seasonal normal from 6,005,000 in October. It was 225,000 greater than November, 1956.

The unemployment figure of 292,000 represented 4.9 per cent of the labor force, an unusually high figure in recent years. It compared with 2.3 per cent in the same month of 1956, with 2.9 per cent for 1955 and 4 per cent in 1954.

SINATRA DROPS 'LOOK' LIBEL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frank Sinatra is dropping his $2,300,000 libel action against Look Magazine and replacing it with an invasion of privacy suit.

In a joint statement Monday by Sinatra and John F. Harding, vice-president of Look, Sinatra said he is taking the action to seek court determination of the extent the press can intrude on a celebrity's privacy.

INCORPORATED 2ND MAY 1670

It is a week before Christmas and all thru the BAY customers are shopping
12 hours today!

The shelves and the counters are piled to the top
And beautiful windows invite you to shop,
The children are visiting Toyville to see
Jolly old Santa and sit on his knee.

And Mum in her kerchief
And Dad in his jeans
Are hurrying 'round like two Mexican beans!

And on every floor from basement to fourth
Everyone's helping that man from the North.
Away in a corner way back in the rear
The advertising people with deadlines too near
Are wrapping up suggestions for your last minute list
For Auntie or Uncle or someone you've missed.

The porters and cleaners, stock boys and clerks,
Managers, supervisors, the whole bloomin' works
Have only one aim thru thin and thru thick
To get your house set to greet jolly St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles our delivery trucks roar
Bringing bundles of happiness
Right to your door.

Now nylons—now toasters—
Now toy trains and wagons,
On Beach, on Pandora, on Blenkinsop and Bryons,
To the front of the porch, to the back of the hall
Now dash away! Dash away! Dash away, all!
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house our drivers they fly
With a truck full of toys and the odd Christmas tie.

Time will be passing, the days slide by fast
So hurry, please hurry, while selections last.

There's customer parking for 1000 cars
On the biggest lots between here and Mars!
Our carport will carry your big heavy gifts
While you whizz thru the store on Escalators and "lifts."

The spirit of Christmas
Is alive thru the BAY
And the exciting enchantment mounts day by day.

The lights how they twinkle,
The colors how merry,
The aisles are all decked
Like the home of a fairy.

So if you want to finish before the last minute,
Just hop on a bus and come downtown in it.
The BAY is the place where the people all head,
The store all decorated in gold, green and red.

We're willing and able To help you and serve you
From 9 in the morning 'til 9 in the night.

So HAPPY CHRISTMAS to All!
may each gift be "JUST RIGHT"

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Three stalwarts from Victoria's political arena sat within debating distance of each other at Monday night's choral symphony in the Royal Theatre.

Premier Bennett listened raptly from the front of the circle while just behind him sat Eric Charman, president of Victoria's Progressive Conservatives.

And a few rows back was Oak Bay Liberal Archie Gibbs—a lifelong devotee of good music.

For once, these platform figures were lost in a crowd of more than 1,000 people who cared for nobody but those upstage who dispelled their cares in glorious melody.

From a 10-year-old boy at Sir James Douglas Elementary I received a learned lecture on the wonders of our planetary system, with a little side instruction on Sputniks I and II.

"Do you learn all this at school?" I asked, greatly wondering.

"No," he snorted. "We get it from Walt Disney. He knows everything."

A gay and benevolent Santa Claus paraded through the Empress Hotel lounge en route to a Christmas party—and no one cracked a smile or even nodded a welcome. Some of the guests had that "I don't think we've been introduced" look, and one wore the kind of expression a man might wear if a stranger entered his bathroom unannounced.

However, a girl on the elevator assures me the Empress really lets its hair down over Christmas.

"There's loads of fun for everyone," she said. "The hotel really does it up brown."

And lots of luck to Victoria actress Moyra Mulholland who hopes to start a year-round professional repertory theatre in the now disused Atlas on Yates.

The merry flutter of Christmas cards by every mail... From Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Christopher, of Chicago, a personal card bearing a picture of their favorite city—Victoria. They spend six or eight weeks here every summer, and as Dr. Christopher says in an accompanying note: "We are already longing to return."

card from city cartoonist Bill Fellows. The two-color drawing shows Santa driving his reindeer through a fiery hornet's nest of Sputniks, Muttniks and flying saucers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

An anonymous donation of $500 has boosted the Senior Citizens' Housing Society fund to $1,500, secretary Glen Hamilton reported Monday.

The fund will be used for starting a low-rent housing project on Styles Street for old age pensioners. Victoria Labor Council has pledged $10,000 to the project.

The Pacific Command frigate New Waterford will carry out surface and anti-aircraft firing practice in Juan de Fuca Strait from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

The ship is on contractor's trials following modernization at Yarrows Ltd.

The provincial cabinet today fixed Jan. 18 as the date for a plebiscite in the Cowichan area on formation of a hospital improvement district.

The plebiscite was requested after a meeting in Duncan Sept. 16 of groups interested in establishment of a new hospital to serve the Lake Cowichan area.

Lucky seven was just a jinx for two 20-year-olds each fined $15 in city police court today for being minors in possession of liquor.

Ronald A. Frost, 271 Durran, and Kenneth A. Wright, RCN, each had seven bottles of beer when checked by police.

Correspondence course on Anglicanism will be started in Victoria.

The 12-lesson instruction course, sponsored by the Board of Religious Education, will cover the faith, history and practice of the Anglican Church of Canada.

Further information may be obtained from any Anglican priest in the diocese or by writing to "Church Instruction Course," the Synod Office, 912 Vancouver.

The B.C. Electric Co. will operate special Christmas lighting sightseeing tours around Greater Victoria on Dec. 26, 27 and 28.

The tour routes will be announced later this week.

Deadline for business tax payment at City Hall today found 236 accounts still unpaid and a total of $26,232 still to be collected.

Tax collection officer William Wallace said he felt the 236 late payees represented "collectable" accounts.

After today a 5 per cent penalty will be charged on business tax payments.

SHOPS OPEN LONGER HOURS FOR CHRISTMAS

Most downtown stores will stay open until 9 p.m. Wednesday, Friday and Monday to ease the Christmas shopping rush, officials said today.

They are expected to close at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday.

OWING: 1,000 LIRE

Ex-Immigrant Asks City For Back Pay

By PETE LOUDON

A Rumanian immigrant was shovelling snow on Victoria streets in 1933. His name was Joseph Faganeu. He wasn't used to outside work. It was cold. After four hours Joseph turned in his shovel and went home. He returned to Rumania without collecting his wages—$160.

Today Mayor Percy Scourrah received a letter from Joseph, written from an Italian refugee camp.

"Could you trace my long lost pay?" he wrote. "It isn't very much, but here it is over 1,000 lire—and a lot of money where unemployment is a great problem."

MORE SNOW

Joseph Faganeu was to shovel a great deal of snow in Europe in the years to come—without pay, and without gloves. He was jailed. He was chased from country to country by the Communists. Finally, in 1955 he escaped to Italy, and a DP camp.

"This past hard winter our camp was covered with five feet of snow. We all shovelled snow, without pay, but as free men. This reminds me of Canada."

Mayor Scourrah had the records searched. Names of casual labor were not kept. But there is record of hiring of snow shovellers in February, 1933.

And some of the money allotted to wages was left over.

"If we can't pay this money, I'll see myself that he gets it," said the mayor. "It's worth it for the story."

Joseph can be written to at this address: JOSEPH FAGANEU, Campo II, Gr. IX, Mat. 5267, Le Fraschette di Alatri, Prov. Frosinone, Italy.

ONE MILLION MULTI-COLORED BLOOMS

Huge Chrysanthemum Airlift Under Way

By HUMPHRY DAVY

One of the biggest chrysanthemum airlifts in the history of Saanich is under way this week.

Over 100,000 bunches, representing about a million multi-colored blooms are being shipped to all parts of B.C. and the prairies.

Saanich in the last few years has become one of the biggest "mum" producing centres in Canada due to ideal growing conditions.

Growers said the demand for Christmas has increased because of the lasting qualities of the flowers, hence the heavy production this month. "It is one of the best crops we ever had," said Ed Lum, one of the largest growers. "The flowers grew under natural conditions. They only needed protection from rain and wind."

Growers this year have placed a larger number of varieties on the market in order to find out what colors or shades the public like best. Some of the colors are spectacular, especially a bronze and golden-yellow variety. Other colors include deep red, pink and white.

Bennett Silent On Reported Spending Cuts

Budget May Fall Below Record

Premier Bennett would neither confirm nor deny today reports that he has ordered all government departments to reduce their spending next year by 5 per cent.

"I'm not going to comment on budgetary matters," the premier said. "Rumors are always starting in the press at this time."

Asked by a reporter if he meant the report of the 5 per cent slash was incorrect, Mr. Bennett replied:

"I'm not saying anything about it, either negatively or affirmatively."

The premier said the press and opposition critics of the government who have been claiming recently that B.C.'s finances are in bad shape, "show they have as much knowledge of the province's finances as a dog baying at the moon."

Government departments began work on their 1958-59 fiscal year estimates more than two months ago.

Department heads were told at that time they must pare all expenditures by as much as possible.

Preliminary estimates have now been submitted to the treasury board, headed by the premier as finance minister, for study.

It is the usual practice for the board to send these estimates back with suggestions for further cuts, but this year it is reported a general 5 per cent chop has been ordered.

Delinquency Action Body Appointed

With one minor amendment the Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council Monday endorsed recommendations of the Gillie committee report aimed at reducing juvenile delinquency in this area.

It followed that approval with appointment of an action committee to carry the recommendations to appropriate bodies for implementation.

B. C. Gillie, chairman of the original committee, with Conway Parrott, chairman of the council, will head the action group.

By the amendment, the meeting recognized the existence in Victoria of suitable recreational facilities for normal young people, but drew attention to the need for specialized therapeutic recreation for delinquents.

Thanks were extended to the juvenile delinquency committee composed of H. D. Dee, principal of Victoria High School; J. Child, president of the board, Family and Children's Service; W. Hamilton, Victoria police commissioner; A. H. Stott, Victoria Daily Times; Mrs. J. M. Prentice, supervisor of nurses, Victoria Health Department; Dr. E. N. Boettcher, medical superintendent, St. Joseph's Hospital; K. Murphy, barrister; D. E. Woodsworth, director, Family and Children's Service; and chairman Gillie, principal of S. J. Willis Junior High School.

Industry Scores Labor's Demand

No Need for Increase In Compensation Benefit

A delegation representing B.C. industry told the provincial cabinet today there is no need to increase present benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Their brief described recent demands by labor organizations for extension of benefits as "unrealistic."

The brief urged a number of changes in the act which would benefit employers, such as extension of B.C. Hospital Insurance to compensation patients and the right to appeal compensation board decisions.

It was presented by O. R. Olson, vice-chairman of the B.C. Division, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, on behalf of 15 industrial organizations.

The delegation said the employer provides, "at heavy cost, a remarkable service to all workmen injured in industrial accidents, or who incur occupational diseases."

He assumes the major proportion of the workman's financial loss, provides hospital and medical care, rehabilitation and compensation for him and his dependents.

"Industry provides these benefits in spite of the fact that in very few cases, under common law, could the employer possibly be held in any way responsible."

Compensation benefits paid in B.C. "on the whole" are higher than in most other provinces, the brief said.

Not Meant To Be Health Insurance

The brief quoted from the report of Chief Justice Gordon Sloan in 1942 which said workmen's compensation was not meant to be a system of unemployment or health insurance but "simply a form of compensation to workmen for fortuitous injury."

The brief pointed out that at present under the provision of the Hospital Insurance Act, BCHIS benefits are denied to persons receiving treatment or compensation under the Compensation Act.

Through sales tax payments, industry has been paying 40 per cent of the tax levied to support hospital insurance.

"Yet... it (industry) is denied the benefits of the tax and is required to pay, through the Compensation Board, hospital costs for all compensation claims."

Also urged was a "complete revision" of the appeals section of the Compensation Act.

Employers should be given the same right of appeal as that enjoyed by workmen, the brief said.

Pinned Beneath Truck 2 Hours Before Rescue

A Sooke man lay exposed and crying for help nearly two hours at the bottom of a 40-foot bank after his light truck rolled off the highway Monday night. William Shannon, 54, was pinned partly under the overturned truck and lay unnoticed until a neighbor, Arthur McFarlane, investigated lights at the bottom of his field at about 9:30 p.m.

They were the lights of the pickup truck, invisible from the highway.

Shannon was brought by West Coast Ambulance to Jubilee Hospital, where he was admitted for observation. He had no apparent injuries but suffered mild exposure.

CONDITION GOOD

His condition today was fairly good.

Sooke RCMP said Shannon's truck apparently went out of control on a curve about 500 feet west of Sooke River bridge.

It rolled two or three times and came to rest at the foot of the bank.

McFarlane was unable to release Shannon himself, called Const. Don Knight and the two of them used a house-moving jack to pry the truck off the pinned driver.

In a city accident at about 5:30 p.m. Rev. Richard Welsh, 5186 Cadboro Bay, rector of St. David's Anglican Church, received head injuries when the car he was driving was in collision with a power pole at Blenkinsop and Lohrbrunner.

He was admitted to Jubilee Hospital where his condition today was reported to be satisfactory.

2 Victorians Win Forestry Poster Prizes

Victoria students gained two of 12 awards in an international poster contest staged in Seattle recently by the Western Forestry and Conservation Association.

Garry Hunt, 1278 Basil St., won first prize in the elementary grade class for his poster submitted while he was in grade 6 at Quadra School.

The 12-year-old winner, who now attends S. J. Willis Junior High, is very interested in art and plans to continue.

Third prize in the junior high division was won by Brian Wallace, 830 Richmond, who attended Central Junior High at time of submission. He is now at Victoria High.

WIDE COMPETITION

A member of the YMCA swim team, the 15-year-old student is in grade 10 and is the son of Victoria College vice-principal Professor R. T. Wallace.

The two Victoria entries were among nine winners from over 3,000 B.C. contestants and competed with posters from all over the western United States including California, Idaho and Oregon.

On a fire prevention theme B.C. entries gained five awards including the grand prize, California three and Idaho and Washington two each.

Quick Columbia R. Solution Unlikely

A top American official said here today he is confident the U.S. and Canada will resolve their differences over development of Columbia River hydro.

"But I can't predict that it will happen overnight," said Douglas McKay, new chairman of the American section of the International Joint Commission.

Mr. McKay was in Victoria for a few hours today to pay a "social" call on Premier Bennett.

veloped to the best advantage of each."

Mr. McKay, a former governor of Oregon and Secretary of the Interior in the Eisenhower cabinet, said "mistakes" had been made in the past in negotiations between the U.S. and Canada on Columbia benefits.

"We want to deal fairly with Canada," he said, "and I'm sure all these things can be worked out."

After informal discussion with the premier at a luncheon today, Mr. McKay left for Vancouver where he will continue to sample local opinion on the hydro question.

'If One More Woman Tugs My Sleeve, I'll...'

By DINAH KERR

Victoria sales girls put their hands on their hips today, straightened their sagging shoulders and took a pot-shot at Christmas shoppers.

"If one more woman tugs at my sleeve," said the girl behind the cosmetic counter, "I'll tear her arm off."

"Christmas," she said, "brings out the worst in shoppers."

Everyone wants to be waited on at once. And when we do get to them, they can't decide what they want.

"We had one woman here yesterday who took three-quarters of an hour to buy a tube of lipstick."

"Furthermore," she said, "when it's closing time everyone wants to leave but the shoppers."

"Bells are ringing," she said, "they're closing the doors, but those people won't go home. And we can't go until they do."

Women, the salesgirls agreed, become fussier with each shopping day.

"They're awfully hard to wait on," said the girl behind the lingerie counter. "Men, you can talk to. They figure that if they don't get the right thing, their wives can always bring it back after Christmas."

"But women!" she said. "You show them something and they want you to pull everything out of the drawer. And what do they take? The first thing you showed them."

EVERYONE WEARY

"They're so impatient," said another clerk. "We're all in and short-tempered and so are they. I guess you can't blame them but sometimes they make our day awfully long."

Shoppers who fight their way to the women's wear department are "pretty good," one counter clerk said. "Of course they all want to be served right away. But I can understand their problems. I can't get waited on either, and I work here."

EARS TAKE BEATING

"The noise is awful and those kids want to pull everything apart," a clerk said. "But boys and girls give us the most trouble. They drive me crazy. I can hear those guns all night."

Only quiet oasis in the store was the knitting department, where two clerks stood side by side gazing at the confusion across the main floor.

"Everyone who wanted wool had already bought some," said one clerk.

"Thank the Lord," said the other.

Christmas Music the Treat You Can Enjoy All Year!

By PENNY SAVER

Music is wonderful all year 'round, but at Christmas it holds a very special place in the gay festivities. What could be more beautiful than the old traditional carols sung in church, before the hearth, on the street or around the Yuletide tree?

Visiting a local record shop today, I was happy to find that the larger recording companies have produced albums and records that make excellent gifts for any age group.

Let's hear some of the selections I've chosen!

On the turntable of this shiny new portable record player that, by the way, is a perfect gift for college students or travellers (at $35.95), is the latest album featuring Bing Crosby. This year Bing is singing carols and hymns of countries all around the world. His backgrounds are the famous choirs, including the Vatican's choir and the children's choir of France.

A wonderful international record with guaranteed talent in its grooves, it comes at $4.98.

Ding, dong! Are you a lover of bells? If so, you'll want to give or receive the long-playing record of carols played by cathedral bells. It would make a wonderful gift for record collectors who go in for the unusual in music. It's the kind of recording that is a good choice for all-year round. What a buy and what value at $4.20!

If you like to "mess around" with your record machine, trying to produce better sounds and tones, there is a unique set at $20.95, complete with a genuine diamond needle, 50-power microscope, an anti-static treated cloth, a record sweep for attaching to the arm of the player and dusting out the grooves, and an installation kit for fixing your set. A good buy for the proud owner of an expensive hi-fi set... at $20.95.

Solves "No Gift, Please," Request

Some dear friends sent us an invitation to their fiftieth wedding anniversary reception. Although they live far away, we are going, for we wouldn't miss it for anything. Enclosed with the invitation was a small card bearing the phrase, "Please don't send a gift." That may be correct or conventional, but I suppose one can take liberties with close friends. In spite of the request, and even if there had been no celebration at all, we did something which may be entirely out of line. With no precedent to go on, we mailed a cheque for fifty dollars to the couple's favorite philanthropic institution in their city. What is your opinion?

Louise Davis Answers:

Bravo! Along with your thoughtfulness and generosity, you used common sense. You didn't defy their request, yet your hearts had a compulsion to do something to commemorate this milestone. You aren't adding to a heap of gifts that the couple obviously don't need, and, even if they were poor, you wouldn't want to give them money. Your solution was better than a compromise and I sincerely hope that the idea will spread. I am certain that your friends will be touched and thrilled over what you have done, for your deed was sincere altruism. Look at the benefit your fifty dollars will do for an institution which undoubtedly needs it badly and look what it will do for humanity. How gratifying it should be for you and your husband to contribute to such a worthy cause in such a wonderful way.

Teenagers, don't all scream at once, but your old friend Elvis Presley has his much-wanted Christmas album waiting for you in a certain shop. The shop owner is making a little deal with you, too. If you cut out this column and take it to him, you can get 48 cents off the regular $5.98 long-playing album.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am here again to help you with a few Christmas suggestions. It seems to me that the conception and packaging of cosmetics become more original and beautiful every Christmas. They are so pretty to behold that one almost hates to touch them.

You cannot go wrong with cosmetics or perfume as gifts. They always are welcomed, even by those who indulge in such items regularly.

Today oils of perfume are available. The scent lasts much longer than regular perfumes because it does not evaporate. As a matter of fact, you are advised to apply it before your bath so that the warmth of your tub will encourage the fragrance to sink into your skin. It should be applied at the pulse spots. If you wish you can dab a bit more onto your hands or hair after your bath, but the fragrance lasts from one tub to the next.

There is also a solid perfume which is wonderful for your purse since it cannot leak or spill. This is highly concentrated, lasts a long time and comes in a lovely compact. Perfumes also come now in attractive Christmas tree decorations. I mention the above items because they are a little different. Of course there are myriad and charmingly decorated combinations of all sorts: bath powders and cologne with matching fragrance, cologne and perfume, bath salts and powder and cologne, and so on.

Here are a few more suggestions to aid you as you sprint down these last few days before Christmas:

1. Why not give a membership in an organization in which the recipient is interested, such as a record or book club or a museum?

2. A gift certificate from a store your "difficult person" favors, or a gift certificate from a beauty salon for massage, hairdos and so forth.

3. A course in something in which your friend or a member of your family is interested. This could be skating or dancing lessons, or some other sport. It might be a self-improvement course in beauty or a study course of some sort such as language, ancient history, modern poetry, art. It could be an extension course from some university.

White Nylon Chiffon Worn by Bride

A white ballerina-length gown of nylon chiffon was worn by Patricia Ann Whybrow for her marriage to Jerald David Harris, Saturday evening. The full-skirted dress featured a draped bodice with a V-neck and short sleeves and a floating panel that extended from the low waistline. Her pearl-studded bandeau held a shoulder-length veil of illusion net and her jewelry was pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. N. Wragg played traditional organ music.

Mother of the bride wore a gown of rose wool. Her hat was of blue feathers, and her corsage, white carnations. A navy crepe dress complemented by white accessories was worn by the groom's mother, who had a corsage of pink carnations.

Jeff Phillips was best man and ushers were Chuck Bennett and Bob Smith.

Pink roses topped the three-tier wedding cake that centred the bridal table at a reception

A deep coral-toned dress of in Glenshiel Hotel. Carnations in pink and white decorated the room.

Norwegian Rhode proposed the toast to the bride.

For her honeymoon, the new Mrs. Harris donned a knitted suit in turquoise tones topped with a cream colored coat.

MAC SHOUB COMEDY WITH B. C. BACKGROUND ON C-2, 6 & 9

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

CHATTER-We offer this to you without comment: About two weeks ago the U.S. motion picture box office attendance was "down to slightly more than 32,000,000 persons, compared to an average of 85,000,000 per week some years ago when the population count was considerably less than now."

When the new "Shirley Temple's Storybook" TV series opens on NBC-TV Sunday, Jan. 12, viewers can expect to be entertained by some high-priced talent. Charlton Heston, Claire Bloom and E. G. Marshall have been linked to the first play, "Beauty and the Beast."

Kirk Browning will direct. And by the way, not only will Shirley act as hostess-narrator in her "live" television debut but she will also sing "Dreams Are Made for Children," the theme song for the entire series.

IT MAY come as a surprise to some but not to Danny Thomas fans. First Nielsen report for November points out that Danny is now TV's reigning comic. Top-runner of the "regulars" in the report is Gunsmoke, then Wells Fargo which is followed in 'third place among the regular programs by Thomas. Last season Thomas was deep down on the list. Of the first 15 places CBS scored 11 times and NBC three. But for Wyatt Earp ABC would have been whitewashed. Earlier ABC was claiming five top raters, including Maverick, Sinatra and Disneyland. None of them made the top bracket.

Here's how Nielsen rated the front 15. Lucy, 47; Gunsmoke, Wells Fargo, Danny Thomas, Jack Benny, Wyatt Earp, Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, I've Got a Secret, Have Gun Will Travel, Lassie, December Bride, Groucho Marx, The Millionaire and GE Theatre, the last three mentioned being tied.

PANTS FOR ANTS

Aardvark Awkward Problem to Zoo Men

NEW YORK (AP)—A flopped, long-snouted animal better known to crossword puzzle addicts and spelling champions than to captivity has arrived at the Bronx Zoo. It's an aardvark. And it must be called "it" for the time being because the aardvark's dangerous claws have so far prevented anyone from discovering its sex.

Douk Seeks Damages From RCMP

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judgment was reserved Monday by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in the suit of John Savinkoff, Doukhobor farmer at Passmore, against five RCMP officers.

Savinkoff is seeking $200 for damage to his house and unspecified damages for injuries he alleges the police inflicted on his nine-year-old son, Peter, on June 1, 1956.

Officers found the boy hiding under the floor of his farm home when they went there with a search warrant to pick him up for failure to attend school. They said they tunneled under the house to reach Peter, who then crawled out willingly, saying he was not frightened any more.

As counsel for the Savinkoffs, J. T. Steeves contended that unnecessary force was used when seven police officers went to the farm to apprehend one small boy.

CITY COUNCIL ROUNDUP

4,000 Name Petition On Gas Station Hours

A 4,000-name petition for a referendum on whether gasoline sales should be wide-open will be presented to the next meeting of city council, service station operator A. G. Beattie promised today.

"We'll go right ahead with it," he said following a council meeting Thursday.

He earlier had offered to pay up to $1,000 to cover costs of the referendum if the city would order it.

Council decided it would make no promises before seeing Mr. Beattie's petition. City solicitor T. P. O'Grady pointed out council was not obliged to honor the petition. Ald. Arthur Dowell said morally, council could not refuse it.

DOWELL IN FAVOR

Ald. Dowell sides with Mr. Beattie in opposing the present gas station by-law which requires stations to either close at 6 p.m. or remain open 24 hours a day. Mr. Beattie feels this discriminates against the small station which could not economically operate for 24 hours but which would profit from being open until the late evening.

Ald. J. Donald Smith said the matter of hours had been decided by council after lengthy hearings and the decision was based on wishes of 93 per cent of the dealers themselves.

"The public are the ones who must be served. They should have the say-so," said Ald. Dowell.

"If anyone wants to pay the total cost (of a referendum) we shouldn't turn them down," said Ald. G. L. Edgell. "Surely we want the direction of the people whenever possible."

Council took no action to assist Fox Theatre after management advised the theatre faces closure unless some relief is given regarding the 1957 business licence.

Licence rates have been raised for 1958, but council is unable to alter the 1957 charge. Council decided to submit a separate bill to the legislature asking authority to impose business tax on trust companies and utility companies.

The authority also is contained in a draft bill which will ask the city be granted its own charter. If the charter is held up, the city still hopes to gain the taxing authority which could boost civic revenues $25,000 next year.

Council supported a request from Mayor Scourrah that Capital Improvement District Commission be asked to improve and widen Douglas Street between

Road Mishap Something To Remember

FRANKFURT, Germany (Reuters)—A 67-year-old married man who went out to buy a pack of cigarettes but fainted in the street and lost his memory has returned home here—after nearly three years.

Georg Stephan Wachter said he was found in the street by a policeman and put in a camp as a refugee from East Germany.

Several weeks ago while crossing a road he was nearly run over by a car and the shock brought back his memory.

Montreal Police Accept Pay Offer

MONTREAL (CP)—Part of the membership of the Montreal Police's Brotherhood Inc., bargaining agent for 2,500 policemen, Monday night accepted a municipal offer of wage increases ranging from $300 to $727 annually.

The city's offer calls for a two-year contract and increases the yearly salary of a first class constable by $527 to $4,300. Toronto first class constables receive $4,400.

COLD FEET PAIN IN NECK TO EMPLOYER

JACKSON, Miss. (UP)—Junior Reeves is going to be repaid for the false teeth he had to buy because he hurt his foot.

It seems that Reeves dropped a 35-pound block of ice on his foot, causing these complications:

Following the foot injury, Reeves' lower teeth became infected.

The infected teeth gave rise to neuritis in his back.

The neuritis increased the pain in his foot.

The teeth were removed to ease the pain.

The upshot: Pay him for the false teeth, the state Supreme Court ordered Reeves' employer.

Queen, Philip Make First Tour Of U.K. Newspaper

LONDON (Reuters)—The Queen Monday saw the inside of a British newspaper office for the first time.

She toured the headquarters of The Times after dining with directors and executives of the newspaper in the board room. The Queen, fully recovered from a slight cold which had kept her indoors at Buckingham Palace Sunday, was accompanied by Prince Philip.

It is believed to be the first occasion on which a reigning sovereign has visited the office of a British newspaper.

In her tour, the Queen was shown all the processes in the production of the newspaper and members of the editorial, mechanical and commercial staffs were presented to her and Philip.

7-Day Layoff For Kitimat Workers

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Aluminum Company of Canada Limited Monday announced a temporary layoff of about 45 per cent of the production workers at its Kitimat smelter.

A spokesman said the men would be laid off for a maximum of seven days. Some of them would be idle for only one day.

The layoff was blamed on a break Dec. 7 in the power line to the smelter from Kemano, 50 miles away. The blackout caused freezing of the potlines in which the aluminum is made and disrupted production.

"Certain men can't be used until the potlines are back in production," the spokesman said. "This isn't a shutdown." "Most of these men would normally have had two days off during the period for which they are being laid off."

Doctors Strike

SANTIAGO, Chile (Reuters)—Doctors in most of Santiago's hospitals went on strike Monday over a pay dispute, and many sick patients were evacuated. Only urgent operations and emergency cases were dealt with by skeleton staffs.

Each and everyone of us makes a home with the stamp of our own personality on it. If you don't believe that, just look around at your friends and their homes and see how well they fit each other. Now, before the time of partying, visits from old friends, Christmas family dinners and other festivities—now is the time to make sure that home is a place you can truly be proud of.

Expert Advice

One of the problems that one faces in buying a Christmas present for the home is 'How will it go with the present decor?' This question can be solved in advance by shopping at EATON'S—our trained interior decorators will be glad to advise you. And, you'll be sure that the newly unwrapped gift will look completely at home in its surroundings on Christmas morning.

Easy to Buy

Another advantage of buying at Eaton's is the simple, confidential system of deferred payments. You choose whatever you want for the home and tell the salesperson you want to budget it. Your approved budget account requires only 10% down payment, and in many cases less, and you can have as long as 36 months to pay the balance. Full details from the third floor Accounts Office.

Let's Have a Party

Now that we've freshened up the house, and found it's easier to pay for than one had dreamed possible, a party is definitely indicated. There again Eaton's stands ready to help. Call in to the Hostess Shop on the Main Floor, and look over our remarkable selection of exotic foods—some like fried bees or silkworms are perhaps better conversation pieces than staple foods, but they're fun anyway, and that's what parties are for!

No Buffet Blues

Don't work your fingers to the bone preparing food for your guests—just have a word with our Hostess Shop staff, and we'll fix the foodstuffs for you. No work for you and everything so delicious you'll be showered with compliments!

Detail Work

It's often the little things that count—and a visit to our Party Shop in the Stationery Department will uncover a load of wonderful little things. Such as cocktail picks in every colour of the rainbow and napkins for all occasions—some funny enough to liven up a party of professional mourners! Also present are hats of the craziest types, balloons in various shapes, favours, novelties—just have a look at the bottom of the page, so you'll just have to come and see for yourself!

B.C., OTTAWA JOIN TO KEEP MINE OPEN

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal and British Columbia governments together will contribute $20,000 a month toward keeping the copper mine of Howe Sound Company at Britannia, B.C., open through the winter on a reduced scale, Justice Minister Davie Fulton today informed the Commons.

The federal government will contribute $16,000 a month and B.C. $4,000. Number of workers will be reduced to between 350 and 400 from the present 700 but the company will still incur "substantial losses," Mr. Fulton said.

He said this was an unusual request but that the circumstances are unique. The mine had been scheduled to close down altogether today, leaving some 700 men without jobs in an isolated community where no alternate employment was available.

Paris Parley Leaders Work Compromise

(See Also Page 9)

PARIS (CP)—The leaders of the Western Alliance today directed the NATO permanent council to work out a common policy toward Russian proposals for East-West talks, thus leaving the door open for negotiations. They also agreed to take early steps to invite Russia to resume talks about disarmament.

The common policy move apparently was part of a compromise solution that would allow military men to continue plans to increase Western Europe's strength with ballistic missiles.

The U.S. delegation has been reported as willing to accept such a compromise although wanting something stronger.

NATO Secretary-General Paul-Henri Spaak, at a press conference, outlined the workings of the second day's sessions of the summit talks.

Spaak also said that there were suggestions today that the question of disarmament be taken up with the Soviet Union outside the United Nations, where negotiations are stalled.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau suggested a five-power disarmament talk.

The five powers would be Britain, France, the U.S., Canada and Russia.

Spaak said that the debate on the letters from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin ended in full agreement to refer the matter to the NATO permanent council.

He said that the NATO permanent council would be asked to work out a common policy toward Russian proposals for East-West talks, thus leaving the door open for negotiations.

They also agreed to take early steps to invite Russia to resume talks about disarmament.

ATLAS ZOOMS IN SUCCESS

Sommers Trial Ordered To Proceed by January 10

VANCOUVER (CP)—Magistrate Oscar Orr today ordered the Crown to be ready to proceed in the Sommers bribery conspiracy case by Jan. 10.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said he could not guarantee the case would be ready by that time.

Mr. McMorran also said he does not intend to release an RCMP report into allegations of bribery made against Robert Sommers, former forests minister in the B.C. cabinet.

The report by Inspector W. J. Butler is libellous, the prosecutor said.

It cannot be produced on the ground of public policy and its form and nature would make it inadmissible as evidence, Mr. McMorran has returned it to Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

Lawyer Alfred Bull said he will make application to have the report made available. Magistrate Orr will hear Mr. Bull's request later this week.

Mr. Bull is counsel for Charles Davis Schultz and C. D. Schultz and Company Limited, charged in the bribery conspiracy case along with Sommers, Hugh Wilson Gray, John M. Gray and the two companies with which the Grays are connected, Pacific Coast Services and Evergreen Lumber Sales.

The three lumber companies and their executives are charged with bribing Sommers for forest management licences.

Nicholas Mussallem, Sommers' lawyer, said the delay in beginning the case was "much less than satisfactory." Sommers was arrested at his home in Victoria Nov. 21 "with a great deal of fanfare" but the case has not begun.

"Now we learn that there may not only be new charges laid but amendments made to the present ones," Mr. Mussallem said.

"If the crown is unable to proceed as expeditiously as possible, I will ask either that the case be dismissed or write to the attorney-general asking him to appoint counsel who can proceed."

Magistrate Orr said he could not agree to a motion for dismissal.

"This matter should come to some conclusion quickly," Magistrate Orr added. "Some time by the first week in January the final charges should be settled and particulars given. A conspiracy case is not so very difficult."

TRUMP AT NATO Europe Hails U.S. Success With Missile

LONDON (UP)—Successful firing of the Atlas missile sent a wave of cheer through Europe tonight and gave the United States its strongest card to date for a new rocket defence accord at the Paris NATO summit conference.

The news reached Europe—and particularly Paris—while the NATO alliance's chiefs of state were in their second working session this afternoon.

It provided the U.S. with the best possible answer to growing European fears that U.S. ability to defend its allies was falling behind the Soviet threat.

There was no immediate reaction from Moscow.

Soviet party leader Nikita Khrushchev himself told western correspondents earlier this month that "sooner or later" he knew the U.S. would achieve the intercontinental missile.

In London, Kenneth W. Gatliff, vice-chairman of the council of the British Interplanetary Society, said:

"It is a great achievement. We have been waiting for this for a long time. It means the U.S. is right in the field with the Soviet in the development of long-range missiles. This development will enable them to put larger satellites into the air."

The Atlas is designed to deliver a hydrogen warhead to a target 5,000 miles away in a flight time of 30 minutes. To reach maximum range, it siles.

The Atlas is powered by three rocket engines delivering 270,000 pounds of thrust.

The takeoff appeared at the very start to be successful. The tall, slender tube rose straight upward from its launching stand, slowly at first.

Gradually it climbed faster as the mighty thrust of its three rocket engines began to take effect.

Ground haze and heavy thunderclouds, which rolled in at mid-morning, obscured the view.

Moments after leaving the ground, the missile, trailing a thick streak of flame, disappeared into the overcast.

The missile was visible for about one minute before it observed the fiery blastoff.

Then the exhaust became a burning sun boring a hole into the clouds.

The launching drew wide attention, since Russia has reported a successful firing of its own intercontinental missile.

Through binoculars, observers noticed also Monday night that the Vanguard rocket launching tower was lighted and the scene of much activity. One report had it that there will be another Vanguard launching attempt about December 23.

The launch stand was damaged December 6 by a satellite-bearing Vanguard three-stage rocket which failed to take off properly and burned on the ground. The stand has been dark, or nearly so, each night since then.

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Knife-wielding vandals have been busy in this city's new $100,000 Calvary Temple, resident pulpit of Rev. P. A. Gagliardi, B.C.'s minister of highways.

Workers Monday discovered slashes in a new red carpet, newly laid for the temple's inaugural ceremonies later this week. They said the cuts had been made with a linoleum knife.

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes announced today Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general effective Jan. 1.

The announcement said the Canadian general will continue to command the international police force stationed along the Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

Gen. Burns is on loan from the Canadian Army to the external affairs department for duty with the United Nations.

The announcement said the promotion "recognizes the outstanding work and leadership given by Gen. Burns while chief of staff of the UN truce supervisory organization and as commander of the UNEF in the Middle East."

While serving with UNEF, Gen. Burns, former Canadian deputy minister of veterans affairs, is on leave of absence from a post as special adviser in the external affairs department.

The general, a soldier, writer, scientist, authority on map-making, lecturer and former general officer commanding the 1st Canadian Corps during some of its toughest battles in Italy, has headed the precedent-setting international force since its creation more than a year ago.

ICBM Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. Air Force successfully launched an Atlas inter-continental ballistic missile today.

The air force announced success "on a limited range" and said the Atlas travelled several hundred miles, landing in a pre-selected target area.

The giant weapon, 100 tons of metal and fuel, roared skyward from the missile test centre here at 12:38 p.m. EST (9:38 PST) after hours of preparation.

It disappeared into a cloud layer 2,000 to 3,000 feet above ground within one minute of launching.

The Atlas is designed to deliver a hydrogen warhead to a target 5,000 miles away in a flight time of 30 minutes. To reach maximum range, it siles.

The Atlas is powered by three rocket engines delivering 270,000 pounds of thrust.

The takeoff appeared at the very start to be successful. The tall, slender tube rose straight upward from its launching stand, slowly at first.

Gradually it climbed faster as the mighty thrust of its three rocket engines began to take effect.

Ground haze and heavy thunderclouds, which rolled in at mid-morning, obscured the view.

Moments after leaving the ground, the missile, trailing a thick streak of flame, disappeared into the overcast.

The missile was visible for about one minute before it observed the fiery blastoff.

Then the exhaust became a burning sun boring a hole into the clouds.

The launching drew wide attention, since Russia has reported a successful firing of its own intercontinental missile.

Through binoculars, observers noticed also Monday night that the Vanguard rocket launching tower was lighted and the scene of much activity. One report had it that there will be another Vanguard launching attempt about December 23.

The launch stand was damaged December 6 by a satellite-bearing Vanguard three-stage rocket which failed to take off properly and burned on the ground. The stand has been dark, or nearly so, each night since then.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

In quietude we look to Thee, our Father, for Thy blessing at this hour. Sincerely we breathe a prayer of gratitude for Thy bountiful gifts, which our eyes behold, and for those things which we cannot see. Help us to see more clearly and accept more fully Thy provision for all our need and Thy help in solving all our problems. May we never be guilty of taking for granted Thy gifts of mercy and forgive our waywardness as we thank Thee for Thy faithfulness; in Jesus' name. Amen.

JAIL, FINE IN VOTERS' LIST PADDING

TORONTO (CP) — Bernice Price, 27, of Toronto was sentenced today to one month in jail plus a fine of $300 or an additional month in jail on charges arising from alleged padding of voters' lists in Toronto St. Paul's federal riding.

Miss Price was convicted last week on 18 charges of forgery and uttering and violating the Canada Elections Act.

The prison term and fine were imposed on the first charge. She was given one month concurrent on each of the other 17 charges.

Yukon Victory Boosts Tory House Strength

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — Erik Nielsen, a young Progressive Conservative seeking his first public office, Monday was elected to the House of Commons as member for the Yukon, Canada's most northerly constituency.

The 34-year-old Whitehorse lawyer was elected in a by-election by a narrow margin over incumbent Aubrey Simmons, 49, who had held the seat for the Liberals since 1949 and whose re-election in the federal general election last June was voided by the courts because of irregularities in the balloting.

Two isolated polls with a possible total of 122 votes were unreported at the end of counting Monday night, but the count from 49 of the 51 polls gave Mr. Nielsen a 148-vote margin, 2,339 to 2,191.

There was no possibility of a reversal of Mr. Nielsen's election by a service vote as occurred in the June vote when the overseas service count wiped out a 49-vote margin held by Mr. Nielsen and re-elected Mr. Simmons by a 64-vote majority, 2,422 to 2,358. No service vote is permitted under by-election regulations.

The outcome Monday increased the Progressive Conservatives' margin over the Liberals to nine seats.

House standing following the by-election: Progressive Conservatives, 113; Liberals, 104; CCF, 25; Social Credit, 19; Independent, 2; Independent-Liberal, 1; Liberal-Labor, 1. Total 265.

Foes Part as Friends In Saanich Council

Farewells were the chief order of business Monday night when Saanich council met in a short post-election session that was the last meeting for three councillors.

Reeve Arthur Ash paid tribute to Councillors Leslie Passmore, Joseph Casey and Eugene Diespecker.

"While we have disagreed on many occasions," he told Coun. Passmore, "I have always admired you because you always called a spade a spade. And I've admired your sense of humor, at the council table and away from it."

Senate Told U.S. Expects Workable ICBM in 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas said today there is a "very real possibility" the Russians will shoot a rocket to the moon within a year.

Douglas told the Senate preparedness subcommittee he thinks the United States can match this possible achievement "within the foreseeable future." But he did not set any date.

Douglas also testified that the U.S. expects to have intercontinental ballistic missiles in operation within two years. Douglas gave this estimate reluctantly in response to questioning by chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Tex.), saying at first it was secret information.

MAY BE COMBAT AREA

His estimate that the Russians might fire a rocket at the moon was given after Gen. Thomas D. White, air force chief of staff, said the U.S. must get about the business of conquering outer space, which he said may become an area of combat.

The ICBM is designed to pack a nuclear warhead for distances up to 5,000 miles at speeds in the thousands of miles an hour. Douglas also testified the Thor missile "can move into substantial monthly production at a very early date and has been ordered to do so." The Thor is a 1,500-mile intermediate range missile ICBM.

Looking further ahead, Douglas told the subcommittee the air force is working to develop a mile-a-second airplane as "a step toward a manned satellite." The plane is the X-15, which he said should have an altitude of more than 100 miles and a speed of some 3,600 miles an hour—three times that of the fastest existing planes.

Strong Trade Mission To Canada U.K. Plan

LONDON (CP) — Britain today announced she will send a "small but strong" trade mission to Canada next spring and turn her smaller manufacturers into more powerful exporting blocs.

At the same time Canadian Trade Minister Gordon Churchill appealed to United Kingdom manufacturers to launch a vast "buy British" advertising campaign in Canada and exploit "the explosive power of sentiment in business."

Those who fail to recognize this power of sentiment are overlooking one of their strongest weapons. Churchill said in a report issued by the 50-man Canadian trade mission at wind-up sessions with Britain's Dollar Exports Council.

"Human nature being as it is, people like to deal with the progressive and the successful," Churchill added. "Britain today is a live and virile nation that has made a tremendous recovery since the war and is showing leadership in the new and scientific."

"Your genius for understatement is charming — but it certainly isn't a promotional asset."

Sir William Rooses, council chairman, told the mission that its suggestions, ranging from the advertising campaign to providing priority on shipment of goods to Canada, will be implemented as quickly as possible.

Murder-Suicide Inquest Pending

(From CP Dispatches)
VANCOUVER—No date has been set for the inquest into a suspected murder-suicide involving a man and a woman in a downtown motel Sunday.

Jack Roberts, 35-year-old Hamilton, Ont., welder, is believed to have shot 21-year-old Ann Stringer, formerly of London, England, before killing himself.

Police said the dead woman came here from Hamilton in August. Her father is Albert Stringer, Royal Mews, Buckingham Palace Road, London. Police say the man left two notes. One was addressed to a woman in eastern Canada, thought to be his wife, and the second, addressed "to whom it may concern," is a rambling three-page account of his love affair with Miss Stringer.

Police believe Roberts shot the woman twice in the left leg then dragged her to the bed and shot her through the chest.

Investigators said Roberts then placed a pillow against his chest and shot himself. Towels were apparently used to muffle the 45 automatic.

POPE PLANS TO STRENGTHEN GOVERNING BODY OF CHURCH

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Informed Vatican sources expect Pope Pius to act soon to reinforce the central government of the Roman Catholic Church, weakened in the last year by the deaths of two cardinals, the age or persistent ill-health of other cardinals and his own restricted activity.

But, these sources say, the Pope will not deal with this pressing problem of church government in the 19th Christmas message of his reign, which he will broadcast next Sunday.

Vatican sources expect the Pope to announce important teachings as the world's 400,000,000 Roman Catholics enter the space age.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain and promptly relieved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinkage) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

NANAIMO — Alderman George Bryce at a council meeting Monday said a city committee on unemployment had followed advice from Ottawa and started a drive to promote winter work here.

Labor conditions in the Nanaimo area have been described as "grim." Some 200 workers are expecting layoff from Eureka Sawmill December 31.

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. salmon fishermen have expressed "extreme disappointment" over the federal government's refusal to reduce the "15 contributions" qualification for seasonal unemployment benefits.

Salvation Army Needs More Gifts For Unemployed
Salvation Army workers are battling for extra funds this Christmas to meet the needs of unemployed workers and their families.

Dollars donated to the Army's Christmas Cheer and winter relief fund will go to provide hampers for poor families, sunshine bags for "shut-ins" in city institutions and clothing for elementary school children.

"Last Christmas we clothed 48 Victoria children who were insufficiently clad for the winter months," a Salvation Army official said. "This year, due to unemployment in the area, we shall have to clothe more."

"Our hampers and sunshine bags will also be in greater demand."

Last Christmas the Army raised $6,100 for this work.

Indians Forward Protest

CAMPBELL RIVER — Coroner Dr. N. B. Hall brought in a finding of accidental death through drowning Monday after an inquiry into the deaths of Stella Dick, eight, and Shirley Moon, nine.

The two Indian girls were trapped in the galley of the fishing boat Eva D-1, which sank in Georgia Strait Saturday night while it was carrying a party of 22 from a Christmas party on the north coast of Quadra Island to Cape Mudge reservation, on the south coast of the island.

Cape Mudge is three miles from here.

Dr. Hall said the accident was caused after the seiner had been holed by a piece of floating breakwater.

Robert Clifton, president of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, said the coroner's finding would be forwarded to Ottawa as a protest against the wooden breakwater at Cape Mudge.

He said the brotherhood has been seeking construction of a rock breakwater at the village since a wooden extension to the present breakwater was erected last year.

AMID FLOWERS OF THE SUN

These colorful chrysanthemums shipped by air from Saanich today will bring Christmas cheer to many snow-bound Prairie homes and hospitals, Saanich ships thousands of blooms during the Yuletide season. In centre is Janice, 3½ years, daughter of growers Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lum. (Times Photo.)

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Three stalwarts from Victoria's political arena sat with in debating distance of each other at Monday night's choral symphony in the Royal Theatre.

Premier Bennett listened raptly from the front of the circle while just behind him sat Eric Charman, president of Victoria's Progressive Conservatives. And a few rows back was Oak Bay Liberal Archie Gibbs—a lifelong devotee of good music.

For once, these platform figures were lost in a crowd of more than 1,000 people who cared for nobody but those upstage who dispelled their cares in glorious melody.

From a 10-year-old boy at Sir James Douglas Elementary I received a learned lecture on the wonders of our planetary system, with a little side instruction on Sputniks I and II.

"Do you learn all this at school?" I asked, greatly wondering.

"No," he snorted. "We get it from Walt Disney. He knows everything."

A gay and benevolent Santa Claus paraded through the Empress Hotel lounge en route to a Christmas party—and no one cracked a smile or even nodded a welcome.

Some of the guests had that "I don't think we've been introduced" look, and one wore the kind of expression a man might wear if a stranger entered his bathroom unannounced.

However, a girl on the elevator assures me the Empress really lets its hair down over Christmas.

"There's loads of fun for everyone," she said. "The hotel really does it up brown."

And lots of luck to Victoria actress Moyra Mulholland who hopes to start a year-round professional repertory theatre in the now disused Atlas on Yates.

The merry flutter of Christmas cards by every mail... From Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Christopher, of Chicago, a personal card bearing a picture of their favorite city—Victoria. They spend six or eight weeks here every summer, and as Dr. Christopher says in an accompanying note:

"We are already longing to return..." An ingenious atomic-age card from city cartoonist Ben Fellows. The two-color drawing shows Santa driving his reindeer through a fiery hornet's nest of Sputniks, Mutt-niks and flying saucers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

An anonymous donation of $500 has boosted the Senior Citizens' Housing Society fund to $1,500, secretary Glen Hamilton reported Monday.

The fund will be used for starting a low-rent housing project on Styles Street for old age pensioners. Victoria Labor Council has pledged $10,000 to the project.

The Pacific Command frigate New Waterford will carry out surface and anti-aircraft firing practice in Juan de Fuca Strait from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

The ship is on contractor's trials following modernization at Yarrow's Ltd.

The provincial cabinet today fixed Jan. 18 as the date for a plebiscite in the Cowichan area on formation of a hospital improvement district.

The plebiscite was requested after a meeting in Duncan Sept. 16 of groups interested in establishment of a new hospital to serve the Lake Cowichan area.

Lucky seven was just a jinx for two 20-year-olds each fined $15 in city police court today for being minors in possession of liquor.

Ronald A. Frost, 271 Dur-rance, and Kenneth A. Wright, RCN, each had seven bottles of beer when checked by police.

Correspondence course on Anglicanism will be started in Victoria.

The 12-lesson instruction course, sponsored by the Board of Religious Education, will cover the faith, history and practice of the Anglican Church of Canada.

Further information may be obtained from any Anglican priest in the diocese or by writing to "Church Instruction Course," the Synod Office, 912 Vancouver.

The B.C. Electric Co. will operate special Christmas lighting sightseeing tours around Greater Victoria on Dec. 26, 27 and 28.

The tour routes will be announced later this week.

Deadline for business tax payment at City Hall today found 236 accounts still unpaid and a total of $26,232 still to be collected.

Tax collection officer William Wallace said he felt the 236 late payees represented "collectable" accounts.

After today a 5 per cent penalty will be charged on business tax payments.

Developed to the best advantage of each. Mr. McKay, a former governor of Oregon and Secretary of the Interior in the Eisenhower cabinet, said "mistakes" had been made in the past in negotiations between the U.S. and Canada on Columbia benefits.

"We want to deal fairly with Canada," he said, "and I'm sure all these things can be worked out." After informal discussion with the premier at a luncheon today, Mr. McKay left for Vancouver where he will continue to sample local opinion on the hydro question.

SHOPS OPEN LONGER HOURS FOR CHRISTMAS

Most downtown stores will stay open until 9 p.m. Wednesday, Friday and Monday to ease the Christmas shopping rush, officials said today.

They are expected to close at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday.

Ex-Immigrant Asks City For Back Pay

By PETE LOUDON

A Rumanian immigrant was shovelling snow on Victoria streets in 1933. His name was Joseph Faganeu. He wasn't used to outside work. It was cold. After four hours Joseph turned in his shovel and went home. He returned to Rumania without collecting his wages—$160.

Today Mayor Percy Scurren received a letter from Joseph, written from an Italian refugee camp. "Could you trace my long lost pay?" he wrote. "It isn't very much, but here it is over 1,000 lire—and a lot of money where unemployment is a great problem."

MORE SNOW

Joseph Faganeu was to shovel a great deal of snow in Europe in the years to come—without pay, and without gloves. He was jailed. He was chased from country to country by the Communists. Finally, in 1955 he escaped to Italy, and a DP camp.

"This past hard winter our camp was covered with five feet of snow. We all shovelled snow, without pay, but as free men. This reminds me of Canada."

Mayor Scurren had the records searched. Names of casual labor were not kept. But there is record of hiring of snow shovellers in February, 1933. And some of the money allotted to wages was left over.

"If we can't pay this money, I'll see myself that he gets it," said the mayor. "It's worth it for the story."

Joseph can be written to at this address: JOSEPH FAGANEU, Campo II, Gr. IX, Mat. 5267, Le Fraschette di Alatri, Prov. Frosinone, Italy.

By HUMPHRY DAVY

One of the biggest chrysanthemum airlifts in the history of Saanich is under way this week.

Over 100,000 bunches, representing about a million multi-colored blooms are being shipped to all parts of B.C. and the prairies.

Saanich in the last few years has become one of the biggest "mums" producing centres in Canada due to ideal growing conditions.

Growers said the demand for Christmas has increased because of the lasting qualities of the flowers, hence the heavy production this month. "It is one of the best crops we ever had," said Ed Lum, one of the largest growers. "The flowers grew under natural conditions. They only needed protection from rain and wind."

Growers this year have placed a larger number of varieties on the market in order to find out what colors or shades the public like best. Some of the colors are spectacular, especially a bronze and golden-yellow variety. Other colors include deep red, pink and white.

Bennett Silent On Reported Spending Cuts

Budget May Fall
Below Record

Premier Bennett would neither confirm nor deny today reports that he has ordered all government departments to reduce their spending next year by 5 per cent.

"I'm not going to comment on budgetary matters," the premier said. "Rumors are always starting in the press at this time."

Asked by a reporter if he meant the report of the 5 per cent slash was incorrect, Mr. Bennett replied:

"I'm not saying anything about it, either negatively or affirmatively."

The premier said the press and opposition critics of the government who have been claiming recently that B.C.'s finances are in bad shape, "show they have as much knowledge of the province's finances as a dog baying at the moon."

Government departments began work on their 1958-59 fiscal year estimates more than two months ago.

Department heads were told at that time they must pare all expenditures by as much as possible.

Preliminary estimates have now been submitted to the treasury board, headed by the premier as finance minister, for study.

It is the usual practice for the board to send these estimates back with suggestions for further cuts, but this year it is reported a general 5 per cent chop has been ordered.

Delinquency Action Body Appointed

With one minor amendment the Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council Monday endorsed recommendations of the Gillie committee report aimed at reducing juvenile delinquency in this area.

It followed that approval with appointment of an action committee to carry the recommendations to appropriate bodies for implementation.

B. C. Gillie, chairman of the original committee, with Conway Parrott, chairman of the council, will head the action group.

By the amendment, the meeting recognized the existence in Victoria of suitable recreational facilities for normal young people, but drew attention to the need for specialized therapeutic recreation for delinquents.

Thanks were extended to the juvenile delinquency committee composed of H. D. Dee, principal of Victoria High School; J. Child, president of the board, Family and Children's Service; W. Hamilton, Victoria police commissioner; A. H. Stott, Victoria Daily Times; Mrs. J. M. Prentice, supervisor of nurses, Victoria Health Department; Dr. E. N. Boettcher, medical superintendent. St. Joseph's Hospital; K. Murphy, barrister; D. E. Woodsworth, director Family and Children's Service, and chairman Gillie, principal of S. J. Willis Junior High School.

Industry Scores Labor's Demand

No Need for Increase In Compensation Benefit

A delegation representing B.C. industry told the provincial cabinet today there is no need to increase present benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Their brief described recent demands by labor organizations for extension of benefits as "unrealistic."

The brief urged a number of changes in the act which would benefit employers, such as extension of B.C. Hospital Insurance to compensation patients and the right to appeal compensation board decisions.

It was presented by O. R. Olson, vice-chairman of the B.C. Division, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, on behalf of 15 industrial organizations.

The delegation said the employer provides, "at heavy cost, a remarkable service to all workmen injured in industrial accidents, or who incur occupational diseases."

"He assumes the major proportion of the workman's financial loss, provides hospital and medical care, rehabilitation and compensation for him and his dependents."

"Industry provides these benefits in spite of the fact that in very few cases, under common law, could the employer possibly be held in any way responsible."

Compensation benefits paid in B.C. "on the whole" are higher than in most other provinces, the brief said.

Not Meant To Be Health Insurance

The brief quoted from the report of Chief Justice Gordon Sloan in 1942 which said workmen's compensation was not meant to be a system of unemployment or health insurance but "simply a form of compensation to workmen for fortuitous injury."

The brief pointed out that at present under provisions of the Hospital Insurance Act, BCHS benefits are denied to persons receiving treatment or compensation under the Compensation Act.

Through sales tax payments, industry has been paying 40 per cent of the tax levied to support hospital insurance.

"Yet... it (industry) is denied the benefits of the tax and is required to pay, through the Compensation Board, hospital costs for all compensation claims."

Pinned Beneath Truck 2 Hours Before Rescue

A Sooke man lay exposed and crying for help nearly two hours at the bottom of a 40-foot bank after his light truck rolled off the highway Monday night.

William Shannon, 54, was pinned partly under the overturned truck and lay unnoticed until a neighbor, Arthur McFarlane, investigated lights at the bottom of his field at about 9:30 p.m.

They were the lights of the pickup truck, invisible from the highway.

Shannon was brought by West Coast Ambulance to Jubilee Hospital, where he was admitted for observation. He had no apparent injuries but suffered mild exposure.

CONDITION GOOD

His condition today was fairly good.

Sooke RCMP said Shannon's truck apparently went out of control on a curve about 500 feet west of Sooke River bridge.

It rolled two or three times and came to rest at the foot of the bank.

McFarlane was unable to release Shannon himself, called Const. Don Knight and the two of them used a house-moving jack to pry the truck off the pinned-driver.

In a city accident at about 5:30 p.m. Rev. Richard Welsh, 5186 Cadboro Bay, rector of St. David's Anglican Church, received head injuries when the car he was driving was in collision with a power pole at Blenkinsop and Lohrbrunner.

He was admitted to Jubilee Hospital where his condition today was reported to be satisfactory.

2 Victorians Win Forestry Poster Prizes

Victoria students gained two of 12 awards in an international poster contest staged in Seattle recently by the Western Forestry and Conservation Association.

Garry Hunt, 1278 Basil St., won first prize in the elementary grade class for his poster submitted while he was in grade 6 at Quadra School.

The 12-year-old winner, who now attends S. J. Willis Junior High, is very interested in art and plans to continue.

WIDE COMPETITION

A member of the YMCA swim team, the 15-year-old student is in grade 10 and is the son of Victoria College vice-principal Professor R. T. Wallace.

The two Victoria entries were among nine winners from over 3,000 B.C. contestants and competed with posters from all over the western United States including California, Idaho and Oregon.

On a fire prevention theme B.C. entries gained five awards including the grand prize, California three and Idaho and Washington two each.

Quick Columbia R. Solution Unlikely

A top American official said here today he is confident the U.S. and Canada will resolve their differences over development of Columbia River hydro.

"But I can't predict that it will happen overnight," said Douglas McKay, new chairman of the American section of the International Joint Commission.

Mr. McKay was in Victoria for a few hours today to pay a "social" call on Premier Bennett.

"The Columbia belongs to both countries," he said in an interview, "and should be developed to the best advantage of each."

'If One More Woman Tugs My Sleeve, I'll...'

By DINAH KERR

Victoria sales girls put their hands on their hips today, straightened their sagging shoulders and took a pot-shot at Christmas shoppers.

"If one more woman tugs at my sleeve," said the girl behind the cosmetic counter, "I'll tear her arm off."

"Christmas," she said, "brings out the worst in shoppers."

Everyone wants to be waited on at once. And when we do get to them, they can't decide what they want.

"We had one woman here yesterday who took three-quarters of an hour to buy a tube of lipstick."

"Furthermore," she said, "when it's closing time every one wants to leave but the shoppers."

"Bells are ringing," she said, "they're closing the doors, but those people won't go home. And we can't go until they do."

Women, the salesgirls agreed, become fussier with each shopping day.

"They're awfully hard to wait on," said the girl behind the lingerie counter. "Men, you can talk to. They figure that if they don't get the right thing, their wives can always bring it back after Christmas."

"But women!" she said. "You show them something and they want you to pull everything out of the drawer. And what do they take? The first thing you showed them."

EVERYONE WEARY

"They're so impatient," said another clerk. "We're all in and short-tempered and so are they. Guess you can't blame them but sometimes they make our day awfully long."

Shoppers who fight their way to the women's wear department are "pretty good," one counter clerk said. "Of course they all want to be served right away. But I can understand their problems. I can't get waited on either, and I work here."

EARS TAKE BEATING

"The noise is awful and those kids want to pull everything apart," a clerk said. "But boys and girls give us the most trouble. They drive me crazy. I can hear those guns all night."

Only quiet oasis in the store was the knitting department, where two clerks stood side by side gazing at the confusion across the main floor.

"Everyone who wanted wool has already bought some," said one clerk.

"Thank the Lord," said the other.

MISSILE FIRING SUCCESS

B.C., OTTAWA JOIN TO KEEP MINE OPEN

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal and British Columbia governments together will contribute $20,000 a month toward keeping the copper mine of Howe Sound Company at Britannia, B.C., open through the winter on a reduced scale, Justice Minister Davie Fulton today informed the Commons.

The federal government will contribute $16,000 a month and B.C. $4,000. Number of workers will be reduced to between 350 and 400 from the present 700 but the company will still incur "substantial losses," Mr. Fulton said.

He said this was an unusual request but that the circumstances are unique. The mine had been scheduled to close down altogether today, leaving some 700 men without jobs in an isolated community where no alternate employment was available.

NATO Works Out
Policy for New
Russ Arms Talks

PARIS (CP)—The leaders of the Western Alliance today directed the NATO permanent council to work out a common policy toward Russian proposals for East-West talks, thus leaving the door open for negotiations. They also agreed to take early steps to invite Russia to resume talks about disarmament.

The common policy move apparently was part of a compromise solution that would allow military men to continue plans to increase Western Europe's strength with ballistic missiles.

The U.S. delegation has been reported as willing to accept such a compromise although wanting something stronger.

NATO Secretary-General Paul-Henri Spaak, at a press conference, outlined the workings of the second day's sessions of the summit talks.

Spaak also said that there were suggestions today that the question of disarmament be taken up with the Soviet Union outside the United Nations, where negotiations are stalled.

The five powers would be Britain, France, the U.S., Canada and Russia. Spaak said that the debate on the letters from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin ended in full agreement to refer the matter to the NATO permanent council.

Spaak said that there would be no NATO reply to Bulganin although the subject will be covered in the conference communiqué. The individual NATO powers might frame their individual replies to the Soviet Union.

Spaak said that Turkish Foreign Minister Fatih Ruzhu Zorlu raised the question of the Middle East and the gravity of the situation there.

The problem of Israel was considered but Spaak said there was no discussion of Israel's borders or proposals to change them back to the line laid down by the United Nations in 1947.

The foreign ministers of the 15-country alliance spent almost three hours discussing relations with Russia and other political problems before the chiefs of government met in a new round of the NATO summit conference.

The compromise formula which the foreign ministers are reported to have worked out, involves the exploration of possible settlements with Russia while plans are developed for arming NATO Europe with nuclear missiles.

Diplomats familiar with the discussions said there was substantial accord on the Russian issue — that every possibility for East-West agreement should be explored fully.

Acceptance of the idea that it was said, will get the task of consulting on the recent series of letters Soviet Premier Bulganin sent to NATO members warning of nuclear missiles danger. Each country then will send its own reply in keeping with a common line.

President Eisenhower was not present as the 14 other government chiefs gathered for the second day of their discussions here. But he arrived to join the talks 45 minutes later.

$10,000 Loot
In Bank Raid

TORONTO (CP) — A lone gunman posing as a Buffalo businessman today held up Toronto-Dominion Bank branch and escaped with $10,000.

The man ordered manager A. J. Lunn at the 3 p.m. closing time to write out a counter cheque for $10,000.

After the teller handed over the money, the holdup man forced Mr. Lunn to accompany him from the bank. The manager was released a few blocks north of the bank, which is at Queen and Yonge Streets in downtown Toronto.

TRAIL (CP) — An explosion occurred today on the gas line of Inland Natural Gas near Shoreacres, 20 miles north of this city.

TORONTO (BUP) — Peter Kaczer, an unemployed photographer, today returned nearly $4,800 he was given by a district grocery clerk in mistake for a bag of 12 buns.

Kaczer, the father of two small children, said he did not discover he had accidentally received the windfall until this morning when he went to a kitchen cupboard to open a bag he was given at the store which he thought contained the buns.

Plane Search
Continuing

VANCOUVER (CP) — A helicopter will land a four-man search party today — weather permitting — on a rugged mountain in the British Columbia interior where a light plane crashed Sunday.

Monday, swirling snow whipped up by winds reaching 75 miles an hour forced postponement of plans to send the party up Mount Thynne, in the Coquihalla Pass 110 miles east of here.

Aboard the rented Beechcraft Bonanza when it crashed at the 6,000-foot level of the mountain were DEW-Line pilot Roger Sujir, about 30, of Calgary, and an unidentified female companion.

100-Ton Weapon
Soars Into Sky

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. Air Force successfully launched an Atlas inter-continental ballistic missile today.

The air force announced success "on a limited range" and said the Atlas travelled several hundred miles, landing in a pre-selected target area.

The giant weapon, 100 tons of metal and fuel, roared skyward from the missile test centre here at 12:38 p.m. EST (9:38 PST) after hours of preparation.

It disappeared into a cloud layer 2,000 to 3,000 feet above ground within one minute of launching.

The Atlas is designed to deliver a hydrogen warhead to a target 5,000 miles away in a flight time of 30 minutes. To reach maximum range, it would attain an altitude of 600 miles.

Within 20 minutes after the launching the air force here and the defence department in Washington announced that "this was a limited range test of several hundred miles."

The Atlas is the U.S. answer to Russia's claim of superiority in the field of long-range missiles. The Soviets have reported successful launchings of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Atlas is powered by three rocket engines delivering 270,000 pounds of thrust.

The takeoff appeared at the very start to be successful. The tall, slender tube rose straight upward from its launching stand, slowly at first.

Gradually it climbed faster as the mighty thrust of its three rocket engines began to take effect.

Ground haze and heavy thunderclouds, which rolled in at mid-morning, obscured the view.

Moments after leaving the ground the missile, trailing a thick streak of flame, disappeared into the overcast.

The missile was visible for about one minute before it climbed into the thick cloud banks overhead.

At about the time it disappeared, the first roar of its engines could be heard on the distant beaches.

Although the missile could not be seen thereafter, the thunder of its engines could be heard for more than four minutes.

There was no way that watchers here could determine whether the firing was entirely successful, but it unquestionably was a much better shot than the two previous Atlas test firings. In both earlier launchings the missiles wobbled and had to be destroyed.

Only a few beach watchers observed the fiery blastoff.

TRUMP AT NATO

Europe Hails
U.S. Success
With Missile

LONDON (UP) — Successful firing of the Atlas missile sent a wave of cheer through Europe tonight and gave the United States its strongest card to date for a new rocket defence accord at the Paris NATO summit conference.

The news reached Europe—and particularly Paris—while the NATO alliance's chiefs of state were in their second working session this afternoon.

It provided the U.S. with the best possible answer to growing European fears that U.S. ability to defend its allies was falling behind the Soviet threat.

There was no immediate reaction from Moscow.

Soviet party leader Nikita Khrushchev himself told western correspondents earlier this month that "sooner or later" he knew the U.S. would achieve the intercontinental missile.

In London, Kenneth W. Gatland, vice-chairman of the council of the British Interplanetary Society, said:

"It is a great achievement. We have been waiting for this for a long time. It means the U.S. is right in the field with the Soviet in the development of long-range missiles. This development will enable them to put larger satellites into the air."

Exhaust Becomes Burning Sun

The first sign of the firing was a belch of white smoke. Ground haze was so intense that the missile itself could not be seen.

The smoke rose higher and then a dot of flame appeared. The flame rose and the missile came into view.

Then the exhaust became a burning sun boring a hole into the clouds.

The launching drew wide attention, since Russia has reported a successful firing of its own intercontinental missile.

Pearkes Announces Boost
For UNEF Commander

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes announced today Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general effective Jan. 1.

The announcement said the Canadian general will continue to command the international police force stationed along the Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

Gen. Burns is on loan from the Canadian Army to the external affairs department for duty with the United Nations.

The announcement said the promotion "recognizes the outstanding work and leadership given by Gen. Burns while chief of staff of the UN truce supervisory organization and as commander of the UNEF in the Middle East."

While serving with UNEF, Gen. Burns, former Canadian deputy minister of veterans affairs, is on leave of absence from a post as special adviser in the external affairs department.

The general, a soldier, writer, scientist, authority on map-making, lecturer and former general officer commanding the 1st Canadian Corps during some of its toughest battles in Italy, has headed the precedent-setting international force since its creation more than a year ago.

Sommers Trial Ordered
To Proceed by January 10

VANCOUVER (CP) — Magistrate Oscar Orr today ordered the Crown to be ready to proceed in the Sommers bribery conspiracy case by Jan. 10.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said he could not guarantee to be ready by that time.

Mr. McMorran also said he does not intend to release an RCMP report into allegations of bribery made against Robert Sommers, former forests minister in the B.C. cabinet.

The report by Inspector W. J. Butler is libelous, the prosecutor said.

It cannot be produced on the ground of public policy and its form and nature would make it inadmissible as evidence.

Mr. McMorran has returned it to Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

Lawyer Alfred Bull said he will make application to have the report made available.

Magistrate Orr will hear Mr. Bull's request later this week.

Mr. Bull is counsel for Charles Davis Schultz and C. D. Schultz and Company Limited, charged in the bribery conspiracy case along with Sommers, Hugh Wilson Gray, John M. Gray and the two companies with which the Grays are connected, Pacific Coast Services and Evergreen Lumber Sales.

The three lumber companies and their executives are charged with bribing Sommers for forest management licences.

Nicholas Mussallem, Sommers' lawyer, said the delay in beginning the case was "much less than satisfactory." Sommers was arrested at his home in Victoria Nov. 21 "with a great deal of fanfare" but the case has not begun.

"Now we learn that there may not only be new charges laid but amendments made to the present ones," Mr. Mussallem said.

"If the crown is unable to proceed as expeditiously as possible, I will ask either that the case be dismissed or write to the attorney-general asking him to appoint counsel who can proceed."

Magistrate Orr said he could not agree to a motion for dismissal.

"This matter should come to some conclusion quickly," Magistrate Orr added. "Some time by the first week in January the final charges should be settled and particulars given. A conspiracy case is not so very difficult."

JAIL, FINE IN VOTERS' LIST PADDING

TORONTO (CP)—Bernice Price, 27, of Toronto was sentenced today to one month in jail plus a fine of $300 or an additional month in jail on charges arising from alleged padding of voters' lists in Toronto St. Paul's federal riding.

Miss Price was convicted last week on 18 charges of forgery and uttering and violating the Canada Elections Act.

The prison term and fine were imposed on the first charge. She was given one month concurrent on each of the other 17 charges.

Yukon Victory Boosts Tory House Strength

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Erik Nielsen, a young Progressive Conservative seeking his first public office, Monday was elected to the House of Commons as member for the Yukon, Canada's most northwesterly constituency.

The 34-year-old Whitehorse lawyer was elected in a by-election by a narrow margin over incumbent Aubrey Simmons, 49, who had held the seat for the Liberals since 1949 and whose re-election in the federal general election last June was voided by the courts because of irregularities in the balloting.

Two isolated polls with a possible total of 122 votes were unreported at the end of counting Monday night, but the count from 49 of the 51 polls gave Mr. Nielsen a 148-vote margin, 2,339 to 2,191.

There was no possibility of a reversal of Mr. Nielsen's election by a service vote as occurred in the June vote when the overseas service count wiped out a 49-vote margin held by Mr. Nielsen and re-elected Mr. Simmons by a 64-vote majority, 2,422 to 2,358. No service vote is permitted under by-election regulations.

The outcome Monday increased the Progressive Conservatives' margin over the Liberals to nine seats.

House standing following the by-election: Progressive Conservatives, 113; Liberals, 104; CCF, 25; Social Credit, 19; Independent, 2; Independent-Liberal, 1; Liberal-Labor, 1. Total 265.

Foes Part as Friends In Saanich Council

Farewells were the chief order of business Monday night when Saanich council met in a short post-election session that was the last meeting for three councillors.

Reeve Arthur Ash paid tribute to Councillors Leslie Passmore, Joseph Casey and Eugene Diepecker.

"While we have disagreed on many occasions," he told Coun. Passmore, "I have always admired you because you always called a spade a spade. And I've admired your sense of humor, at the council table and away from it."

Coun. Passmore said he felt relief when he was defeated last week and "it feels so good I have decided to break all ties with council and intermunicipal committees."

Council applauded as they stood up and shook hands.

Coun. Passmore resigned his posts as Saanich representative on the library board, Greater Victoria centennial committee, Royal Oak board of cemetery trustees and his position as "liaison" between council and an historical society seeking restoration of Craigflower School.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in even the most stubborn cases after many months!

In fact, results were so thorough

Senate Told U.S. Expects Workable ICBM in 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas said today there is a "very real possibility" the Russians will shoot a rocket to the moon within a year.

Douglas told the Senate preparedness subcommittee he thinks the United States can match this possible achievement "within the foreseeable future." But he did not set any date.

Douglas also testified that the U.S. expects to have intercontinental ballistic missiles in operation within two years. Douglas gave this estimate reluctantly in response to questioning by chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Tex.), saying at first it was secret information.

MAY BE COMBAT AREA

His estimate that the Russians might fire a rocket at the moon was given after Gen. Thomas D. White, air force chief of staff, said the U.S. must get about the business of conquering outer space, which he said may become an area of combat.

The ICBM is designed to pack a nuclear warhead for distances up to 5,000 miles at speeds in the thousands of miles an hour.

Douglas also testified the Thor missile "can move into substantial monthly production at a very early date and has been ordered to do so."

The Thor is a 1,500-mile intermediate range missile IRBM.

MP Charges Socreds Selling Out to U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—Gage Montgomery, New Brunswick Progressive Conservative, Monday accused the Social Credit party of backing United States power interests at the expense of British Columbia.

The Commons member for Victoria-Carleton also said Senator Thomas Reid, B.C. Liberal and chairman of the International Salmon Fisheries Commission, has made statements injurious to Canada.

Mr. Montgomery made his comments as Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission, completed his annual testimony before the Commons external affairs committee.

A. B. Patterson (SC-Fraser Valley) said he is opposed to power development on the Fraser River until the controversy between fish and power has been settled.

He said no power project should be undertaken on the Fraser until it can be shown conclusively that the salmon run on the river would not be seriously affected.

The Columbia rises in British Columbia and flows through the U.S. Pacific Northwest. Gen. McNaughton has said American power interests want water storage dams on the Canadian section of the Columbia from which water would be fed down as needed to U.S. power plants.

Mr. Montgomery said the Social Credit party is backing the U.S. attitude and thus putting Canada in a bad position.

Gen. McNaughton testified that the people of southwestern B.C. won't stand much longer for paying high electricity costs when the Fraser River is on their doorstep for power development. Power consumers were supporting a "vested interest"—the salmon fishing industry.

Romans Mourn Famed Singer

ROME (Reuters)—Hundreds of Romans Monday paid last respects to the body of famed Italian singer Beniamino Gigli in the basilica of St. Mary of the Angels. Heaps of flowers and wreaths lay around the coffin where the beloved tenor lay.

The body was taken today for burial to his home town of Reccanati, near the Adriatic coast. Gigli died in Rome on Nov. 30 of bronchial pneumonia. He was 67.

8-DAY SUBWAY STRIKE ENDS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Rush-hour service on New York City's vast subway system was back to normal today after an eight-day motormen's strike.

The transit workers officially called off their walkout Monday night after receiving promises of state legislature help on their demands. The morning rush of workbound thousands was the first full test of facilities.

The strike was estimated to have cost the transit authority which operates the 228-mile system more than $2,000,000 in lost fares.

Strong Trade Mission To Canada U.K. Plan

LONDON (CP)—Britain today announced she will send a "small but strong" trade mission to Canada next spring and turn her smaller manufacturers into more powerful exporting blocs.

At the same time Canadian Trade Minister Gordon Churchill appealed to United Kingdom manufacturers to launch a vast "buy British" advertising campaign in Canada and exploit "the explosive power of sentiment in business."

Those who fail to recognize this power of sentiment are overlooking one of their strongest weapons, Churchill said in a report issued by the 50-man Canadian trade mission at wind-up sessions with Britain's Dollar Exports Council.

"Human nature being as it is, people like to deal with the progressive and the successful," Churchill added. "Britain today is a live and virile nation that has made a tremendous recovery since the war and is showing leadership in the new and scientific."

"Your genius for understatement is charming—but it certainly isn't a promotional asset."

Sir William Rootes, council chairman, told the mission that its suggestions, ranging from the advertising campaign to providing priority on shipment of goods to Canada will be implemented as quickly as possible.

Murder-Suicide Inquest Pending

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—No date has been set for the inquest into a suspected murder-suicide involving a man and a woman in a downtown motel Sunday.

Jack Roberts, 35-year-old Hamilton, Ont., welder, is believed to have shot 21-year-old Ann Stringer, formerly of London, England, before killing himself.

Police said the dead woman came here from Hamilton in August. Her father is Albert Stringer, Royal Mews, Buckingham Palace Road, London.

Police say the man left two notes. One was addressed to a woman in eastern Canada, thought to be his wife, and the second, addressed "to whom it may concern," is a rambling three-page account of his love affair with Miss Stringer.

Police believe Roberts shot the woman twice in the left leg then dragged her to the bed and shot her through the chest.

Investigators said Roberts then placed a pillow against his chest and shot himself. Towels were apparently used to muffle the .45 automatic.

BEAR RAIDS BRUINS

NORTH VANCOUVER—Mrs. L. G. Bruin's terrier Rags tangled with a bear Monday.

Rags cornered the intruder in Mrs. Bruin's tool shed and was getting the worst of things when RCMP officers arrived on the scene.

The bear left hurriedly. Rags suffered scratches.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

VERNON—Leonard Epoch Nymman, of Keremeos, pleaded not guilty to a charge of manslaughter in assize court here Monday.

He is accused of assaulting

Edward Charles Richter, at Simlikameen, on April 28, 1956. Richter later went to Penticton Hospital, where he underwent three operations and died July 10 this year.

BANDIT MISSES $2,300

NEW WESTMINSTER—Three hotel employees here Monday were forced at gunpoint into a washroom by a bandit who escaped empty handed, after forcing one of the men, bartender Dave Hoskins, to open the till. He found it empty and dashed off. A safe nearby contained $2,300.

VICTIM IDENTIFIED

PRINCE GEORGE—RCMP have identified the man found fatally injured in a lane here as Walter J. Campbell. They suspect he died from a cerebral tumor and that no foul play was involved.

SAFE YIELDS $3,000

KAMLOOPS—Police said thieves used a sack of potatoes to muffle the noise made by explosives in a $3,000 safe-cracking at Louis Creek, 30 miles north of here.

The money had been brought into Gaudreau's store at Louis Creek over the weekend to enable men of Fader Lumber Company mill to cash their pay cheques.

POPE PLANS TO STRENGTHEN GOVERNING BODY OF CHURCH

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Informed Vatican sources expect Pope Pius to act soon to reinforce the central government of the Roman Catholic Church, weakened in the last year by the deaths of two cardinals, the age or persistent ill-health of other cardinals and his own restricted activity.

But, these sources say, the Pope will not deal with this pressing problem of church government in the 19th Christmas message of his reign, which he will broadcast next Sunday.

Vatican sources expect the Pope to announce important teachings as the world's 400,000,000 Roman Catholics enter the space age.

T-BRICKS

Students, Newsboys Aid Drive

Young students of Willows School made the largest group donation to The Times "T-Bricks for Korea" fund today.

Result of their canvass through the school was $128.10—12,801 bricks to build a children's TB outpatients' pavilion in the city of Seoul.

Eight Times' carrier boys exceeded their "quota" of 50 cents each to give $6 to the fund. Sub-manager of the group and campaigner was Michael Somers, 2400 Cedar Hill Cross Road.

Jerry Gosley, who has vivid memories of Korean suffering from his Smile Show tour of the country a few years ago, collected another $25 for the fund following the "T-Bricks" benefit show at the Odeon Theatre Sunday.

The money was donated by staff of the Strathcona Hotel where Gosley passed the hat during a Smile Show program later that night.

Sizeable donations also came from Mount View High School Ltd., $30—and National Motors Ltd., $50.

The fund now stands at $6,996. Further contributions should be sent to the Victoria Daily Times, Douglas Street, or the Times downtown office, Broad Street.

cluding Canada, for a more receptive attitude toward the latest Soviet proposals for more negotiations.

Bulgarian, in letters to Western leaders this month, talked about new East-West peace efforts, disarmament and an end to nuclear tests.

Problems before the foreign ministers for discussion also included disarmament, German reunification, the Middle East, relations between NATO and other international organizations, Africa, economic aid and closer political consultation among the allies.

The sharp difference of approach between the U.S. and the European allies toward Europe's missile security appeared to have taken the U.S. somewhat by surprise, American sources said.

American officials had hoped for acceptance in principle of their plan to stockpile nuclear warheads and supply medium-range missiles to NATO countries willing to accept them.

American and other diplomats meanwhile said the Western powers could explore Russia's willingness to negotiate and find out whether any real agreements are possible.

Gagliardi's Church Damaged by Vandals

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Knife-wielding vandals have been busy in this city's new $100,000 Calvary Temple, resident pulpit of Rev. P. A. Gagliardi, B.C.'s minister of highways.

Workmen Monday discovered slashes in a new red carpet, newly laid for the temple's inaugural ceremonies later this week. They said the cuts had been made with a linoleum knife.

Order Early...for a Full Year at the Wheel!

The man you see above, talking with his Cadillac dealer, has just done a wise thing.

From the first instant he saw the new 1958 Cadillac, he knew he would want to make this his year to own and drive the "car of cars"—and so, at the earliest possible moment, he came in to place his order for the color and model of his choice.

And what a sound decision it was!

For an early order means an early delivery—and an early delivery means a long acquaintance with all that is new and current in this finest of Cadillacs!

And how rewarding those virtues are for 1958!

Here, for example is Cadillac styling at its majestic

best. In motion on the highway, arriving at a distinguished club or hotel, or simply parked at the curbside—it is the inevitable object of the deepest respect and admiration.

Here, too, is Fleetwood coachcrafting at its most bountiful. Behind the wheel and in the passenger's seat, this great motor car carries its occupants with a degree of comfort and luxury and graciousness that will surprise and delight even the most experienced of Cadillac owners.

And here is Cadillac engineering at its finest. From silken start to silken stop, it is a revelation in everything a motor car can and should be.

Lucky the man who will enjoy all of these prized Cadillac rewards this year. And doubly blessed the man who will claim them with an early delivery of the car of his dreams.

Remember, then, that time is of the essence!

Whatever your favorite Cadillac model—whether it be the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the fabulous Eldorado Brougham—your Cadillac dealer will be your grateful host at any time—and he will be delighted to give you full details on any of Cadillac's twelve new models.

Minors Sizzle Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The decision of the Columbia Broadcasting System to telecast a Sunday major league Game-of-the-Week next season has brought bitter comment from baseball officials.

Said Commissioner Ford Frick: "It's a bad thing for baseball and I'm sorry some of our clubs are going in for it."

"I'm hoping that Congress will provide legislation that will take us out of the hands of the justice department and give us the right to regulate such telecasts."

Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy, president of the International League and chairman of the minor leagues' committee to block the telecasts, blasted CBS' plan to black out areas where minor league teams are playing home games as "just a cover."

"They know as well as we do that the blackout can cover only a certain area," he said.

DEFY ORDER

He also maintained that the network has disregarded a congressional order in making its plans. Shaughnessy said CBS had been "warned" by a House of Representatives committee on monopolies not to proceed with its plans until hearings on the matter are completed.

Minor leagues czar George Trautman was equally unhappy.

"Apparently Columbia has but one thing in mind and that is the preservation of Columbia and the destruction of the minors," he said.

He added that the minors will continue to pursue the course of their request in Congress.

CBS for its part, would admit only that it is "still in the process of negotiating" for the games, but the Associated Press learned that the plans had been completed.

Five teams—Cleveland, Chicago, and New York of the American League and Philadelphia and Cincinnati of the National—are reported involved in the Sunday telecasts.

Last season both CBS and the National Broadcasting Company (which has a Saturday Game-of-the-Week) blacked out the telecasts within a 50-mile radius of major league cities and in minor league cities where they were conflicted with regularly-scheduled games.

Some observers interpreted CBS' decision as a counter move to NBC's entry into the Saturday Game-of-the-Week picture last season.

Four-for-Four Swap Shakes Up NHL Scene

CHICAGO (UP)—Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings, the two bottom-place teams, are the talk of the National Hockey League today following an eight-player trade.

Announcement of the trade, covering four players from each club, was made this morning.

REPORT IMMEDIATELY

The four new Black Hawks will report immediately and practice with the team Thursday.

The new Wings will be in the Detroit lineup when the team meets Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night.

During the weekend Detroit and Chicago play a "back-to-back" doubleheader, meeting Saturday afternoon at the Chicago Stadium and Sunday night at the Detroit Olympia.

Hawks' spokesman Johnny Gottselig said the key man in the trade as far as the Hawks are concerned is Reibel. The 27-year-old centre has four goals and five assists thus far this season. Before the Red Wings traded Ted Lindsay to the Hawks last season, Reibel teamed up with Lindsay and Gordie Howe to make one of hockey's most respected scoring lines.

NO BIG NAMES

None of the players involved in the swap, however, has been outstanding as a scorer this year. Dineen, 25, has two goals and four assists; Ferguson, one and three; Dea four and four.

Mickoski, 30, has five goals and six assists, but he has not had a goal in 11 games. Bailey has only three and six, and McIntyre, who last year accounted for one of the few bright spots in the Hawks' lineup, has no goals and four assists. Lalande, 23, has a 2-2 record.

Pancho claimed Kramer made a verbal offer to increase the amount from 20 to 30 per cent, but the judge ruled that a verbal offer does not overrule a written contract.

New Cougar on His Way, So, Look Sharp, Fellows!

Someone's Job in Jeopardy When Cats Go After Royals

That long-sought defensive assistance that Victoria Cougars have been after is on its way. Acquisition of defenceman Bud Syverson from Calgary Stampedeers was announced late Monday afternoon by manager Colin Kilburn.

And while Kilburn did not promise Cougar fans first place in the Western Hockey League as a Christmas bonus, the fiery playing manager was quick to make one prediction:

"A few of the boys will be working for their jobs Wednesday," Kilburn vowed. "That includes rookies and veterans alike."

The Cougars have a date with the front-running New Westminster Royals on Wednesday, Shriners' night at Memorial Arena.

Kilburn does not expect Syverson, a good "hitter", who is in his third season with the professionals, to reach Victoria in time for Wednesday's game. "But if he's here," Kilburn said, "he'll dress. Syverson will definitely suit up for Saturday's game here with Seattle."

The Cougar masterminds, Kilburn and coach Pat Egan, did not say what player will be released to make room for Syverson. Kilburn did, however, provide fans with a hint:

"It may be a defenceman or it may be a forward. It could also be a rookie or we might just let a veteran go. We'll just wait and see how they go on Wednesday."

Syverson, Kilburn added, was due to join Cougars a week ago, Calgary coach Frank Currie, who has been having more than a few worries with the last-place club on the Prairies, changed his mind and Syverson remained in Cowtown for another week. The deal was finally completed Monday.

Bud Can Help Keep Rivals 'Honest'

Syverson played junior with Medicine Hat Tigers for four seasons before turning pro with the Stamps. His rookie season turned out to be an eye-opening debut as the blond rearguard picked up 146 minutes in the penalty box in 70 games. Last year, in 52 games with Vancouver Canucks, he was penalized 99 minutes.

On the strength of his penalty count, he may be the man Cougars need to keep rival forwards "honest." One of the disappointing aspects of Cougars' play to date has been the reluctance, by Victoria rearguards, to body-check incoming forwards.

Syverson, who stands 5-10 and weighs 175 pounds, scored two goals in each of his two previous pro seasons. He was credited with 14 assists in 1956 and eight last year. His record this year is one goal, three assists and 38 minutes in penalties.

Kilburn also announced that centre Gord Haworth, who missed Sunday night's 6-3 victory over the Americans in Seattle, will "probably" return to the Victoria lineup Wednesday.

X-rays taken Monday showed a painful side injury, sustained in Saturday's game against Vancouver, turned out to be a case of bruised ribs. If Haworth is ready, then Egan will probably move Kilburn back on defence. The playing manager moved up to his old wing slot for Sunday's game.

Gord Refuses to Go to Seattle

In other player news on the circuit, left winger Gord Hannigan, bought a month ago from Toronto Maple Leafs of the National League, was suspended Monday by Edmonton Flyers after he refused to report to Seattle Americans following a straight cash sale.

"Hannigan was a great disappointment to us," said manager Bud Poile of the Flyers. "He certainly didn't live up to our expectations."

"So we felt we had no alternative but to concede we had made a bad deal, so we offered him to the Seattle team. Keith Allen (general manager and coach of the Americans) made a pitch for him, but Hannigan told me he wouldn't report."

"That meant we had no alternative but to suspend him."

Since we have a substantial investment in him," Poile added. During his short hitch in the Western League, Hannigan picked up only 12 points in 25 games. This is far below last year's pace when he amassed 61 points with Rochester Americans in the American League.

Poile also said Flyers will support a reduction to 12 from the present 15 in the number of men allowed to dress for each game.

An announcement is expected some time this week on a poll of WHL clubs concerning the suggested 12-man roster.

Most of the support for the 12-man limit will come from the Prairies. Kilburn said Cougars are "definitely against" the proposal and other Coast Division teams feel the same way.

11TH HOUR DECISION

Flam's Jitters Cause Benching

MELBOURNE (AP)—Captain Bill Talbert, began trying to mend the shaken morale of his United States Davis Cup team today after loss of the team's No. 2 singles player, Herbie Flam.

The ailing retriever from Beverly Hills, Calif., was benched in a midnight deadline decision and Talbert named Vic Seixas, Gardnar Mulloy, and two youngsters—Barry Mackay and Ron Holmberg—to the squad slated to face the Australians in the challenge round Dec. 26-28.

Flam was omitted at the suggestion of a doctor who said his nervous condition and worry over form made it necessary that he drop competitive tennis for a while.

UNDECIDED

Talbert said he is undecided how the Americans would array their forces against the heavily favored Australians.

"The only thing certain is that Seixas will play singles," he said.

Apparently Mackay has the inside track for the other singles berth and Seixas and Mulloy will be teamed for the doubles despite their loss to the Belgian team in last week's inter-zone final.

Meantime, the Australians continued practicing in privacy on the South Yarra courts about a mile from the city.

Captain Harry Hopman is working hard with Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper who are scheduled to play singles, and Mervyn Rose who teams with Anderson in doubles.

WHEN REDS FORGET BOOK...

Maroosh Has Words of Warning

CHICAGO (UP)—Burly Johnny Mariucci, former defenceman for the Chicago Black Hawks who now coaches hockey at the University of Minnesota, served warning that the Russians will become tougher to handle in the coming years.

Mariucci, who coached the United States Olympic team in the 1956 games, said it was just a matter of the Russians forgetting "the book."

and move with the best of them. The trouble is, they are lost when something happens that didn't appear in the book they read."

Maroosh, his bashed-in nose proof positive that he did his share of knocking down on-rushing wingers in his day, explained: "The Russian athletes know the fundamentals. They aren't afraid of body contact. But if something pops up that the book didn't teach, they are lost."

Turning to hockey on this side of the Atlantic, Mariucci refused to be pinned down in naming his all-time all-star National League team. He was asked about the third edition of the famed Richard family—known as the "Vest Pocket Rocket"—to go along with Henri (Pocket Rocket) and Maurice (The Rocket) with Montreal.

"Don't tell me there is still another of those guys," said Mariucci. "The league is having enough trouble with just two of them. I know Maurice has that injured leg, but don't count him out. They were saying the same thing every time he was injured back 15 years ago. They said he was too brittle—but he's still around."

Mariucci raved about Maurice Richard, but he made another pick when asked to name his best player he competed against.

"That," said Mariucci, "would have to be Milt Schmidt of Boston Bruins. He was the guy who made the Kraut Line famous. But I guess you kinda got to get that guy Richard in there, don't you?"
